Arrests end crime series

In one of the most intricate investigations in recent years, Madison County sheriff's deputies have linked four home burglaries, including one in which a 95-year-old man was tortured in his Mitchell house, with a Collinsville armed robbery and with attempts to cash several stolen and forged checks in Granite City and Chicago.

Four young men, described as two brothers and two friends, are in the Madison County Jail, charged in connection with various phases of the activities of the group.

Granite City police were already searching for Terry L. Hall, 20, of 2437 Edison Ave., in connection with an attempt to cash a stolen check at a Granite City bank. The teller noticed the check was issued to Phil Morrison, 85, of the 4800 block of Maryville Road, and knew the young man attempting to cash the check was not Morrison.

She refused to cash the check and the young man left. Based on information she supplied, Granite City police searched for Terry Hall, who already was wanted on warrants for three counts of deceptive practices in connection with the attempted use of three of Morrison's checks last July.

On Monday, Jan. 28, Terry Hall and Henry P. Myleart, 19, of Box 342, Route 162, Granite City, were arrested by Chicago police in connection with a minor drug investigation and they allegedly had items stolen from Morrison's home, including several checks written out to Morrison which were stolen from his home Jan. 18.

Madison County deputies went to Chicago to bring the two to the Madison County Jail for questioning about a Jan. 24 invasion at Morrison's home in which two burglars struck the elderly man on the head and twisted his fingers, trying to get him to tell where he kept money in the house. A shotgun and $4 cash were taken before the two left. Morrison suffered three broken fingers and has been hospitalized in Wood River since the attack.

None of the checks or items found in Chicago linked Terry Hall or Myleart to the Jan. 24 incident. But while other deputies were returning them to Chicago, Sgt. Charles Zukas and Detective Leonard Shure noticed that Hall's brother's name was on the list of prisoners in the Madison County Jail. David Wayne Hall, 18, also of 2437

SIGNS DISTRIBUTED. Bright red reflective "Send Help" signs designed to draw aid to a person in trouble, either in a motor vehicle or in a home, are distributed to area police agencies and other officials during the last meeting of the Crime Prevention Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, which prepared the signs. From left are Venice Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff, Lt. Col. George Teller of the Granite City police; Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffel; Warren Decatur, chairman of the crime prevention committee; Madison Chief of Police Donald Bridick and Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer. The signs are available free at all Quad-City area police departments, the Venice Township office, the Chamber of Commerce office, First National Bank in Madison, the Granite City Township Senior Citizens' Center, Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream store and other locations. Anyone seeing a "Send Help" sign displayed in a vehicle or the window of a home is being requested to immediately contact the nearest police agency. "Send Help" signs were designed and printed through the Press-Record.

Census cooperation—key to many benefits here

Adequate recognition of the Quad-City area for state and federal help and for full governmental representation hinges on successful completion of the 1980 federal census here April 1, local public officials emphasized today.

They urged cooperation by all to achieve a complete count in the twenty-year population tally.

The following are some of the federal programs that depend on census information to guide the allocation of funds to state and local communities:

- Employment and training, health services, mental health centers, vocational education.
- Community colleges, educationally deprived children, Headstart, highway safety, agricultural research.
- Energy research and development, special programs for the elderly, summer youth recreation.
- Water and waste disposal, state reading improvement programs, nutrition for the elderly.
- Housing and community development.
- Indian and native American employment.
- Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), senior community service employment program, summer programs for disadvantaged youth, public library construction and services.

Unemployment insurance, alcohol and drug abuse programs, community action, vocational rehabilitation.

Student loans, airport and airway development, handicapped children.

Federal aid to highways, land and water conservation, Cooperative Extension Service.

Law enforcement assistance, rural development.

Industrial development, Emergency school aid, and anti-recession assistance.

Much of the 1980 census will be taken by mail, but nearly 270,000 workers will be needed across the nation to handle the mammoth task.

In Illinois, about 15,000 people are to be hired for short-term employment to take the census. The local office is at Belleville, and other offices are situated at Des Plaines, Waukegan, Rockford, Elgin, Wheaton, Joliet, Peoria, Springfield, East St. Louis, Champaign, Tinley Park and Chicago.

The original purpose of the census as outlined in the U. S. Constitution is to provide the population totals needed to apportion seats in the House of Representatives. Illinois may lose two seats as a result of 1980 census findings, and population shifts within the state could result in additional redistricting.

It is estimated that Illinois has 11,243,000 residents, up 1.2 percent, a theoretical average of 468,000 for the 24 Congressional districts.

This district, the 23rd, is expected to gain additional cities when redistricting is carried out. It is believed to have 450,000 people, a drop of 1.6 percent since 1970 and a 2.8 percent deviation from the state average.

Eleven Congressional seats may shift among the states. California, Florida and Texas may gain two House seats due to population gains since 1970. Arizona, Oregon, Tennessee, Utah and Washington probably will gain one seat each.

Along with Illinois, Ohio may lose two seats; New York may lose four. Dropping one each, it seems likely, will be Michigan, Pennsylvania and South Dakota.

Reapportionment has taken place after every decennial census since 1790. While every state is entitled to send two senators, the number of House seats changes with the state's proportion of American population.

Every state is entitled to at least one representative. Representatives have risen from 105 after the 1790 census to 435, the norm since 1912.

Following the 1970 census, districts were drawn so that each representative would serve about 435,000 constituents. However, population shifts during the past decade have resulted in wide variances in the current population of congressional districts, and these shifts will be reflected in the adjustments made after the 1980 census in the 1982 elections.

The Census Bureau is legally obligated to provide the president with the census population total for each state by Jan. 1, 1981. The president will forward the population figures to the clerk of the House of Representatives, who will notify state governors of the number of House seats apportioned to their states.

Population shifts since 1970 have created a need within many states to redraw their Congressional election district boundaries so that each

CENSUS '80 Council honors three scouters

The Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, accorded honors here Saturday evening to active and veteran scouters—the adult volunteers who make the scouting program possible for thousands of boys, young men and young women.

A dinner gathering at Engelbert Hall in Madison voiced appreciation to three new recipients of the Silver Beaver, highest award that can be presented by a council—Zane Miller, Raymond Gaudette Jr. and Donald Nemeth.

Those applauded for long service to scouting included Henry D. Karandjeff, 85 years; Arthur Roseman, 59 years; G. Rollin Henn, 56 years; Elvin Foshner, 55; and Dr. Harry Epstein, 48 years.

Council President Ralph Korte presided and the principal talk was given by Julian A. Dyke, national director of membership relationships, BSA National Council. The speaker was introduced by G. H. Sternberg, a Granite City contractor who is a member of the national executive board and chairman of the National Religious Relationships Committee.

Dyke praised Sternberg for playing a pivotal role in successfully retaining "duty to God" as one of scouting's objectives when the concept was under challenge.

Council Commissioner Robert E. Moske recognized service by scouting volunteers, and "wood badge" training recognition was presented to Bill Wilson by Charles Shanks, council leadership development chairman.

With Mrs. Becky Wheeler as chairman, attention was called to a sweetheart dance Feb. 15 in the Kickapoo District; all proceeds will go to the scout council.

Raymond Gaudette Sr. served as chairman of the award committee and there were prayers by Pack 47 Cub Scout James M. Croner Jr. and Post 38 Explorer Jeff Yates.

Yates will represent the council in the annual Eagle Scout report to the governor this week. A vocal group headed by Yates entertained Saturday night, and dinner music was provided by Keith Monahan.

Sustaining membership enrollment contributions were presented by Edward Blaine and Robert Bastilla.

Dyke stressed the theme of "If we had just joined hands sooner" in describing the favorable impact that scouting can have on the lives of young people.

He said there is a growing challenge due to the changing nature of the typical family structure in America, but added that the necessity of providing character building, citizenship instruction, skill training

Varied cable TV offerings

Cable television—what will it be like here?

South-Western Cable TV, Inc., which has the franchise for Granite City and Ponton Beach, reports that work is continuing, with cable being lashed to the strand to connect local homes with the system. Work also is proceeding in Troy; and all the cable has been installed in Edwardsville, Collinsville and Maryville.

Present plans call for telecasting of three courses here from the Granite City center of Bellevue Area College in the fall of 1980, a South-Western official reports.

Along with the six present television channels received locally—2, 4, 5, 9, 11 and 30—it is planned to offer Carbondale Channel 8, WGN Channel 1 from Chicago, Madison Square Garden (New York City) sports, a Southern Illinois University reserved channel, UPI Newstime, regional cable TV, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, the Christian Broadcasting Network, Nickelodeon, Washington, D. C., Calliope, Cable Company, community access and the WTBS "super station."

Along with the basic service costing $7 monthly, local residents will be offered HBO for another $9, Take Two for another $5 or all three for $21. These monthly charges relate to the first TV set in the home.

Installation costs will be $25 for the basic cable, $20 for HBO (Deluxe pay), $20 for Take Two (Mini pay) or $40 for HBO plus Take Two. These will be reduced during the introductory period to $15, $10 and $30, the spokesman said.

HBO, or Home Box Office, offers non-commercial, unedited, current movies, plus special programs.

Take Two provides family entertainment in the form of current, non-commercial, unedited movies.

South-Western's tower in Maryville and the cable will eliminate the need for individual antennas. Signals will be obtained from a stationary satellite 22,300 miles above the U. S.

A local channel will be broadcast from the Maryville studios, and some programs are to be originated there starting in March.

More GC home data

More descriptive information on local homes is being sought by the staff of Granite City Assessor Von De Cruse, on the ground floor of the City Hall, Edison and Niedringhaus avenues.

Visits to the office are being encouraged from 4:30 to 8 tonight, tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday by those residing east of the center line of Nameeki Road, south of the center line of Ponton Road, and north of the center line of St. Clair Avenue, all the way to the eastern city boundary line. Purpose is to check the accuracy of recorded information on residences, including the size of the home, type of construction, basement, lot size, bathrooms, fireplaces, garage, air-conditioning and age of the home.

Revaluations for assessment purposes have been carried out and are to become final June 1.

Area weather outlook

Mostly cloudy this afternoon with high 25-30. Winds east 5-10 mph. Cloudy tonight and Tuesday with periods of snow. Low of 20. High Tuesday in low 30s. Probability of precipitation 70 percent tonight and 80 percent Tuesday. Wednesday through Friday, clear and cold. High Wednesday in 30s and low 15-22. Thursday and Friday, highs 35-40 and lows in 20s.

Meet on proposed plant relocation law

A public hearing on the proposed Employer Relocation Act will be held Monday, Feb. 11, in Edwardsville, State Rep. Jim McPike (D-Alton) has announced.

The hearing by the Illinois House Labor and Commerce Subcommittee on Employer Relocation is scheduled for 1 p.m. Feb. 11 in the Madison room of the University Center on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Subject of the hearing will be House Bill 2768, known as the Employer Relocation Act.

The legislation would require employers of 100 or more people to give one year's notice of plans to relocate or terminate operations; to file an economic impact statement; and to pay severance pay to employees of three years or more who are losing their jobs and not relocating, in an amount equal to one week's pay for each year on the job.

Also, firms would have to make a contribution to a community development fund equal to one-tenth of the wages paid to all employees who lose their employment, to offset the impact of relocation or termination of plant operations.

"The public is invited to attend and comment on the legislation," Rep. McPike emphasized.

Suspect seen

The accompanying drawing is that of a man believed seen in the Quad-City area late last week. He is being sought for raping a 16-year-old Edwardsville High School girl Jan. 28.

Information on the suspect and his possible location is being sought by Edwardsville Police Director Bennett W. Dickmann at 656-2131.

A $1,000 reward is being offered for information leading to arrest and conviction.

The attacker, armed with a knife, abducted the girl as she was walking along Ill. Route 157 near the ESIC subdivision, on her way home from school.

The man is about 25 years old, with medium length brown hair having a reddish tint, light colored eyes, possibly green, and a fair complexion. He is about 5-10 in height and weighs about 150 to 160 pounds. The composite drawing was prepared by the Madison County sheriff's department.

South band to feature flutist

The Granite City High School South Concert Band will present its second performance of the 1979-80 concert season at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Memorial Auditorium at South high.

Dr. T. Jervis Underwood, professor of music and flute instructor at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, will be the featured artist.

The public is invited to attend the concert. Dr. Underwood will rehearse with the band during the day Tuesday. He also will conduct a special clinic for flute students from Prather, Coolidge and Grigsby junior high schools, according to Joseph Owens, South band director.

At the concert, Dr. Underwood will perform

Concertino for hand and flute solo.

He then will be joined by members of the South band flute section and perform "Meditation by Massenet."

South flute section members are Julie Grider, Mary Pennell, Cathy Sandall, Karen Cook, Jennifer Marler, Robin Bristol and Sherri Ogden.

Other selections to be presented by the band, include:

Men of Ohio by Henry Fillmore; Dance and Intermezzo by Charles Carter; An Irish Rhapsody by Glare Grundman.

Walt Disney Overture by Frank Erickson; Beguine by Band by Glenn Oser; First Swedish Rhapsody by Erik Leiden; and Pride of the Wolverines by John Philip Sousa.

In addition to his responsibilities at SIUC, Dr. Underwood plays principal flute with the Memphis (Tenn.) Symphony.

He received his Ph.D. at North Texas State University, where he also earned his bachelor of music degree.

Dr. Underwood achieved a master of music degree at the University of Illinois.

Before joining the SIUC faculty, he was employed at the University of Texas and Southeast Missouri State University.

Workshop for would-be industrial arts teachers

The School of Education at SIUE will offer a two-day workshop Feb. 12 and 13 for people interested in teaching vocational studies but who do not have a college degree.

Sessions for the workshop will begin with a buffet at 5:30 p.m. on Feb. 12 and continue until 9:30 p.m. that day. On Feb. 13, the sessions will run from 6:30 until 9:30 p.m.

All activities will be in the Mississippi-Illinois Rooms of the University Center. The workshop is free, but registration is necessary for participation.

Funded by a grant from the Division of Adult Vocational and Technical Education, the workshop is aimed for people whose occupational skills may be adapted to vocational teaching at both the secondary and college levels.

The skills and abilities of the participants as they relate to the teaching profession will be considered during the workshop. They will learn what training and preparation is necessary to move into the teaching field of vocational and industrial arts education.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Office of Conferences and Institutes at SIUE, telephone 692-2660, or the department of secondary education, 692-3940.

GUEST ARTIST. Dr. T. Jervis Underwood, professor of music at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and widely known flutist, who will perform with the Granite City High School South Concert Band at 8 p.m. Tuesday in South's Memorial Auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

Delegate candidate would speak for working people

Mrs. Glenda Arnett is running for election as an uncommitted Democratic Party national convention delegate from the 22nd Congressional District of Illinois and is eager to tell why.

She commented today, "I have been an active and concerned member of my union, the International Ladies' Garment Workers for over 15 years, and have worked at the Martha Manning factory as a machine operator for two and a half years. I have lived at 2135 Monroe in Granite City for ten years.

"My political experience is varied. I was a 1979 delegate to the Illinois State AFL-CIO convention. I am a member of the Collinsville Democratic Club and am currently a candidate for precinct committeeman in Granite City Precinct 4.

"My reasons for running are important and should be heard. It's time working men and working women made our voices heard in the political world.

"We need to stop complaining and start taking responsibility for doing something about the things that bother us.

"I am married and have helped raise three children. I know what inflation is doing to the American family.

"I want to help pick a president who is going to do something about how far the dollars of working people will stretch.

"I know first-hand the problems of average working men and working women. People like you and me should be the ones to help choose a president, because most of the decisions a president makes affect our lives very much.

"I am proud of the Democratic Party in Illinois. I want labor union women to have a voice in the decisions made in the Democratic Party of the 23rd District. I would appreciate everyone's support and vote."

Parents can help pre-schoolers deal with fear

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK

Madison County Extension

Adviser, Home Economics

Most of us can recall some fears we had as children—fear of the water, of monsters, of the dark, of snakes.

Such fears are common among pre-schoolers.

Parents can often help a child learn how to cope successfully with fear. It helps just to accept the child's fearful feelings and reassure the child.

In deciding just how to deal with a child's particular fears, it may be helpful to consider childhood fears as falling into three categories: rational, irrational and borderline.

A parent might use a different approach with each type of fear.

Regarding rational fears, remember that the world is full of things that any sensible youngster would be afraid of. Examples are fires, speeding vehicles, inoculations, vicious animals, even violent people.

The parent's role is to protect the child from these dangers and, whenever possible, to teach the child some rules and strategies for dealing with them.

Irrational fears are those related to imaginary experiences. An example is one mother whose four-year-old son had nightmares in great alarm that there were snakes in the corner of his bedroom.

The mother responded by fetching a broom and

PFOENDER, MRS. HAZEL E. (Russell), of the Colonades, formerly of 2921 E. 24th St. Entered into rest at 4:20 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 2, 1980, at the Colonades.

Beloved wife of the late Raymond Pfoender; dear aunt of Mrs. Lamoyne Lindsey, Mrs. Captola Graham and Fred VonGruenigen.

Services 1 p.m. today, Feb. 4, at MERCER MORTUARY Chapel, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave. Interment Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

pretending to sweep the snakes away. This kind of response is not advisable because the adult is put in a ridiculous position of agreeing with the child that the feared creatures were indeed there.

Borderline fears fall between the rational and irrational and are the most difficult to deal with. They have a wide variety of causes and treatments.

A fear of the dark, for example, may result from the loss of familiar points of reference that give stability to the child's surroundings. The best response is to install a small night light and to give the child comforting reassurance that an adult is in control and will protect the child from harm.

Severe weather conditions (thunderstorms, tornadoes) may provoke fear in an adult as well as a child.

In such a case, don't pretend that you're not afraid, but point out that many adults are not so frightened, and remind the child of someone who used to be afraid but overcame the fear. Provide a good model for the child and a sense that such fear is not inevitable.

Children who are afraid that they will be overcome by fear should be reassured that their fear is "normal," and that it is not a sign of weakness when we're little, and that we do get over it.

In addition, children must be reassured that illness, accident or injury are not caused by their own "bad" behavior. Explain what the true causes are.

Hold 2 in robbery on parking lot

A 19-year-old State Park Place youth and a 15-year-old Edwardsville Estates boy are being held in connection with a robbery of two Pontiac Beach residents in the parking lot of Elsie's Lounge on Old Route 66 just west of Route 157 at 1:10 a.m. Saturday.

The gun believed used in the robbery may have been stolen from a Granite City man, Madison County sheriff's deputies said.

William Knecht, 33, and Sharon Haefner, both of Tulip Court in Pontoon Beach, said they were preparing to enter their auto on the parking lot when a young man with long dark hair got out of a dark sedan, approached them, displayed a revolver with a long barrel and announced, "This is a stick-up."

The victims said the man's gun was shaking and waving and he appeared very nervous. He demanded Knecht's wallet, which he threw at the robber. It fell on the ground and the robber leaned over and picked it up. The wallet contained $75.

He then demanded Mrs. Haefner's purse and she refused, saying it contained photos of her children she did not want to lose, but she said he could have the money from it. She removed about $4 and threw it on the ground. He leaned over again and picked it up before running back to his car.

The vehicle, which contained two young men, left toward Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

She went into the tavern and called sheriff's deputies, giving them a description of the vehicle.

A short time later, deputies stopped a car near the university and arrested the two occupants, who are being held for investigation.

A gun was found under the driver's seat and a shotgun shell was on the dashboard.

Deputies are attempting to determine if the gun was the same one stolen from the home of Melton Johnson, 2411 Anchorage Homes.

Johnson told police at 8 a.m. Sunday that his gun had been stolen from the mattress of his bed and he believed it had been taken by a visitor Jan. 25. The visitor is the 15-year-old in custody in connection with the robbery.

Assault charged in incident today

James W. Lowe, 38, Eldorado, Ill., was charged with assault and driving while his driver's license is revoked after an incident in the 2600 block of Circle Drive at 3:50 a.m. today.

Rob Ballard of the 2800 block of Marshfield Ave. told police he was visiting friends at a home on Circle Drive when one allegedly threw a beer can at him, for no apparent reason. The can missed him and hit a wall.

Ballard alleged the man then approached him and they scuffled. During the scuffle, the man displayed a small razor knife and Ballard's other friend was able to get him out of the door. The man left in a blue car, which police stopped at 25th and Benton streets and arrested Lowe, who allegedly surrendered the knife to officers.

Madison Bank notes growth; 4 promoted to vice-president

At the annual stockholders meeting of the First National Bank in Madison, the financial report was presented, followed by remarks of Andre N. Gitcho, president. "The First National Bank in Madison enjoyed a good year for 1979. We have grown considerably in relation to our deposit structure," he commented.

"We are entering a new era, the decade of the '80s.

Together with the runaway inflationary times and the need for economic growth of our communities, the imminent threat to world peace has presented our country with great problems that must be resolved.

"We will endeavor to further improve our banking facilities, and we try constantly to serve our community in the most efficient manner possible," Pres. Gitcho concluded.

Directors re-elected to the bank board were William H. Aulderheide Jr., Walter Blumenfeld, Helen G. Eller, Andre N. Gitcho and Margaret M. Lee.

Officers re-elected by the directors were: Andre N. Gitcho, chairman and president.

Walter Blumenfeld, executive vice-president.

Mrs. Dorothy Shabo, cashier.

Mar. Sharon Jackson, assistant cashier.

Cecil Kowalczyk, assistant cashier.

Promoted to vice-president were: John N. Belloff, vice-president and personnel and lending officer; James W. Foley, vice-president and auditor; John E. Lee III, vice-president and lending officer; and Margaret M. Lee, vice-president, public relations and marketing.

Coal mining to be expedited

Coal experts are gearing up to help operators of small Illinois mines fulfill government environmental requirements so they can get on with the business of digging coal.

Under the 1977 federal Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act, coal mine operators must file detailed information in applications for mining permits. Existing mines also will be required to update their permits as they expire.

Tests and engineering studies required for these permit applications can cost as much as $25,000 to carry out — a sum often beyond the means of small-scale coal operators.

"You must demonstrate in your permit application that you won't permanently damage the hydrology or productivity of the land," says James Gulliford, assistant director of the Illinois Mining and Minerals Resources Research Institute (IMMRRI). "Most small operators just don't have the capital or front money to spend developing this information."

Working through IMMRRI, coal researchers plan to lend their technical skills in such fields as hydrology (the study of relationships between water and other geological features), land reclamation and mining engineering to the operators of small coal mines.

The program — known as the Small Operators Assistance Program (SOAP) — is funded by the federal Office of Surface Mining through the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals.

Mines which produce 100,000 tons of coal or less each year are eligible for the program.

Gulliford said about 50 sites in Illinois — both conventional mining operations and efforts aimed at recovering coal from gob piles and slurry ponds — could be eligible for help under the SOAP program.

Lyle V. A. Sendlein, director of IMMRRI and the SIUC Coal Extraction and Utilization Research Center, said the program should be in operation early this year. He said a meeting is being planned to acquaint small-mine operators with the program.

Illinois' portion of the national SOAP project is scheduled to receive first-year federal funding totaling about $290,000.

Ice hockey competition in GC

The St. Louis Blues ice hockey skate, pass and shoot contest will be held at the Granite City Park District ice rink in Wilson Park on Tuesday, Feb. 12, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The Lincoln's birthday contest is for children whose ages of 6 to 16 were reached during the 1979 calendar year. The contest is broken into five age divisions:

Mites 6-8.
Squirts 9-10.
Pee Wees 11-12.
Bantams 13-14.

Those teaching the finals will receive official medals.

Trophies will be awarded to the grand prize winner and first and second runners-up in each final age division. The finals winner in each age division will meet the professional players and enjoy a hockey trip with the Blues.

Registration may be completed prior to the 9:30 a.m. competition here. No entry fee is required.

Any questions may be answered by calling Granite City Park District office at 877-3059.

1,217 aided by Tree of Lights

"Everyone enjoys a happy ending and we like to think of our 1979 Tree of Lights campaign as a story with a happy ending," Salvation Army Captain Elmer Trapp said.

"Because of the generosity of the community, the Salvation Army was able to distribute over 10,000 canned goods and other food items.

"Each family receiving aid was given $10 to $50 value (depending on the size of the family) in canned goods, bread, potatoes, certificate for meat purchase, and a toy for each child.

"There were 804 new toys, 385 used toys and 1,123 articles of used clothing given out to 1,217 individuals.

"Need knows no season, and just for that reason the Salvation Army will keep aiding families in need throughout the year. People's gifts to the Tree of Lights have made this possible. We are voicing our heartfelt thanks to all who gave of their time and money to make the 1979 Tree of Lights the best success story yet."

North sophs champs

COLLINSVILLE — The Granite City North sophomores wrestling team came away with the first place trophy here over the weekend when it won the Collinsville Invitational Sophomore Championships.

Collinsville finished second and Mascoutah was third. Also entered were Bethalto, Triad, Wood River, East St. Louis and East St. Louis Lincoln.

Even though Collinsville used some of its varsity sophomores and North did not, the host team could not catch the Steeler grapplers. North finished the meet with three individual champions, three runners-up, two third-place finishers and one fourth place.

U.S. responds to local support for Iran hostages

The United Way has received a letter of thanks from the U.S. Department of State citing local concern for those being held hostage in Iran.

The letter addressed to United Way Secretary (now treasurer), Mrs. Denise Wright of the United Electric Co. Venice plant states:

"Thank you for the resolution you sent to President Carter concerning the grave situation in Iran. For that government to applaud mob violence and terrorism, and actually to support and, in effect, participate in the taking and the holding of hostages is unprecedented in human history."

"Nations and people from around the world have voiced their condemnation of Iran and have joined us in calling for the release of the hostages."

"We hold the government of Iran responsible for the well-being and the safe return of every single hostage. We are deeply concerned about the inhuman and degrading conditions imposed on them, and we will not rest nor deviate from our efforts until every single American has been freed."

"We hope this can be achieved through the peaceful exercise of diplomacy and international law, which is preferable to the other remedies available to the United States."

"As the president has said, 'The government of Iran must recognize the gravity of the situation which it has itself created and the grave consequences which will result if harm comes to any of the hostages.'"

"The Administration appreciates the restraint and understanding which have been shown by the American people. That support continues to be of great importance as we go forward with our efforts to achieve the safe release of all the hostages from Missouri."

"Hodding Carter III, assistant secretary for public affairs and State Department spokesman."

Mrs. Wright comments, "While our action has not effected the release of the hostages, we can be proud of our action, which is so consistent with the strong traditions of America and of our ability to stand as one when vital issues confront us. Our support and prayers are needed."

Soccer meeting

GRANITE CITY — The Madison County Girls' Soccer Association will have its first meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 13 in Granite City in the Grigsby Junior High cafeteria at 7 p.m.

Information regarding the spring season will be available at that time. All coaches and managers from last season should plan to attend. Persons interested in starting a new team are also being encouraged to come.

Girls who are not presently on teams, but who want to play on a soccer team may call Nancy Marti, MCCSA President, at 876-6171 or 831-5544.

Age divisions for the coming season are: Pee Wee (8-9 years), Atom (10-11), Bantam (12-13), Midget (14-15), Juvenile (16-17), and Senior (18 and older).

Escapée surrenders

Francis J. Ban, 34, who has been residing in the 1300 block of Slough Road, notified Madison County sheriff's deputies during the weekend that she wished to surrender, since she was an escapee from Missouri, according to deputies.

She said she escaped from a halfway house in 1978 and now wanted to complete her sentence, deputies added. She had notified the Missouri Department of Corrections by telephone and was told to contact the local police, she said.

Deputies also said she had been living a normal life since her escape from the halfway house and held a steady job in in Virginia Beach, Va., before returning to the St. Louis area.

She said she was tired of living in fear of being caught, deputies said. She was held in the county jail for Missouri authorities to pick her up.

Youths in car arrested

Jeffrey D. Brown, 18, of 1010 Reynolds St., Madison, was charged with reckless driving, disobeying a stop sign and being a minor in possession of alcohol after police stopped his car at St. Clair and Jil avenues at 11:40 p.m. Friday.

A 16-year-old girl in the car also was charged with being a minor in possession of alcohol.

An officer alleged seeing Brown's car eastbound on St. Clair Avenue in a reckless manner and alleged the auto went through the stop sign at Wayne Avenue without stopping.

When the auto was stopped, a half-full beer bottle allegedly was found inside. The girl was released on $37 cash bond and Brown posted his driver's license and $37 cash and was released.

News notes

Ronald Randolph will be the manager of the 1980 census district office for this area, in the Augustine building at 218 W. Main St., Belleville. The office will employ 750 temporary workers at the peak of the springtime census activities.

Observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, beginning in Madison County, A dental health fair is planned Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Alto Square, Albany Street and Belline-Highway 111.

A hearing on criteria for determining which waste materials are hazardous will be held from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 13, at the STUE University Center. Hazardous waste fees will provide a $25 million fund in the state treasury to prevent and clean up emergencies, such as abandoned chemical dumps or emergency spills posing a major environmental hazard.

Gov. James R. Thompson will send a four-member economic exploration team to Japan Feb. 8-16 to determine interest by Japanese firms in locating in Illinois. He will go to Japan in late March.

The annual Lincoln Day dinner of the Madison County Republican Central Committee is set for 6:15 p.m. Feb. 22 at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant on Route 39.

Illinois unemployment rose from 6.4 percent in December to 7.1 percent in January. Nationally, the jobless rate increased from 5.9 percent to 6.2.

Punxsutawney Phil, the groundhog, saw his shadow Saturday in Pennsylvania, thus predicting six more weeks of severe winter, according to an old belief.

Gov. Thompson on Thursday signed a new law providing about $100 million in property tax relief this year. It increases from $1,500 to $3,000 the exemption a home owner has on any increase in his property assessment since 1977.

A theft one of the Madison County elective offices is under investigation by the county.

and leadership experience remains as strong as ever.

Announcements of the top three awards were as follows:

"The Cahokia Mound Council is honored to present the Silver Beaver awards to these outstanding members of its scouting community."

"Raymond C. Gaudette Jr., 5 Sunflower Court, Granite City."

"For many years, he has been active in the service of scouting on a unit and district level. He began his service in scouting as an assistant scoutmaster in 1952."

"Since that time he has served in many capacities, among which are: Mitchell PTA Troop 41 scoutmaster, committee member, assistant district commissioner, unit commissioner, merit badge counselor and roundtable staff member."

"He has earned the scouters' award and the district award of merit. He is a vigil honor member in the Order of the Arrow."

"Miller is active in his church, Mitchell United Presbyterian. He is a member of the United Steelworkers of America. He has served on the planning committee for 10 years, and on the supervisory committee for the representative serves approximately the same number of constituents as every other from that state."

This one-person, one-vote principle was established by the Supreme Court during the 1960s. It requires state authorities to achieve a high degree of equality in the population of Congressional districts.

Some courts have even ruled that an election district's population should not deviate more than one percent from the average district population in that state.

The Census Bureau estimated that only 40 of the 435 districts were within that one percent criterion in 1978, and 109 districts deviated by more than 10 percent.

For example, California's 40th election district (Orange County) has 60 provide the states with statewide population breakdowns by April 1, 1981, to assist in the legislative redistricting.

In addition, many municipalities will use 1980 population figures for redrawing the election district boundaries of local representatives, such as city council members and county board members.

The uses found for census statistics have expanded tremendously since 1790. The figures now provide the statistical foundation for hundreds of actions taken daily by public and private decisionmakers around the country.

But the primary purpose remains the same as it was when the Constitution was framed — to provide the population totals for apportioning fair representation in Congress.

Crime series

Morrison to identify the gun as the one stolen from his house when he was tortured Jan. 24, but said it was not stolen from him.

Based on that information, Zukas and Suhre obtained a search warrant for Hahne's home and alleged finding the saved-off stock and part of the saved-off barrel of the gun.

Hahne and David Hall were charged with home invasion, armed robbery, aggravated battery, armed violence and intimidation in international documents issued by the Madison County state's attorney's office Thursday in connection with the Jan. 24 burglary and torturing of Morrison.

Their bond was set at $150,000 each and they were held in the Madison County Jail.

Terry Hall has been charged with three counts of burglary in connection with checks and items taken in three early January burglaries of Morrison's home, but authorities said he is not a suspect in the Jan. 24 burglary. His bond was set at $50,000 and he was being held in the county jail.

Muyheart, who allegedly assisted in attempting to cash one of Morrison's checks at a bank, was charged with one count of forgery and his bond was set at $7,500.

Before retiring in 1970, Mr. Gean was a patternmaker at General Steel Industries, where he was employed 15 years.

His wife, Mrs. Opal Gean, died Oct. 23, 1970.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Ralph (Doris) Cooper of Granite City; three sons, Donald, Ray and Lynn Gean, all of Granite City; a brother, Sammy Gean of Essington, Mo.; three sisters, Mrs. Claude (Ida) Morse of Granite City; Mrs. Leona Morse of Poplar Bluff, Mo., and Mrs. Corrie VanBuren of Collinsville, 10 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

$286 IS STOLEN

Althart's Foster, of Althart's, reported to Pontoon Beach police that while he was taking a steam bath at the Spartan Hotel Spa, No. 3 Lakeside Plaza, $286 was taken from his wallet. The wallet was in the rear pocket of his trousers. Foster discovered the theft after he left the spa and was making a purchase at a hardware store.

SIREN TESTING

The Long Lake Fire Department will be testing its new siren system at 10 a.m. Tuesday and on the first Tuesday of each month following, according to Fire Chief Earl Arnold.

TELEVISION STOLEN

Henry Phillips, No. 31 Granite Homes, Madison, discovered at 10:15 p.m. Sunday a 19 inch color television, valued at $500, was taken.

UNDERCOATING

RALPH'S TEXACO 22nd & MADISON AVE.

VACANT HOUSE BURNS

Fire, believed caused by vandals, damaged a vacant house at 2039 Illinois Ave., Thursday. The building already had been gutted by fires in June, 1979, and by a fire five days earlier, also believed set by vandals.

Thursday's fire started in a mattress in a bedroom and in trash in another room, firemen said. They were on the scene one hour and 25 minutes.

Burglary on Miracle Ave.

Items valued at more than $1,000 were stolen during a burglary at 2445 Miracle Ave., during the weekend.

Entry was gained breaking the glass in a door. The home was ransacked.

Taken were three shotguns, a television set, a tape player, assorted tools, including three drills, numerous items of jewelry, including wedding rings, a vacuum cleaner, a set of encyclopedias, bows and arrows, a camera, a suit, 30 tape recordings, about $500 worth women's clothing, a cassette tape player, and a piggy bank containing about $30 in change, the victim reported.

VENICE BURGLARY

Two color television sets were stolen from the apartment of Cecilia Wilson, 113 Venice Homes, Venice, it was reported at 10:40 p.m. Saturday. A door was picked open, breaking the lock.

Arrest juveniles

Petitions were to be filed today in juvenile court against two youths, ages 15 and 16, who allegedly were caught smoking paint or spray substance from plastic bags in the 2200 block of Madison Avenue at 1:25 p.m. Sunday.

The officer who arrested the two said each had a plastic bag with something in it and one had a spray can in his coat pocket. The bag had been removed from the can.

"Neither could comprehend what was going on," the officer reported. He contacted the parents of the two and was told the boys had been seen sniffing something from plastic bags the day before and had been punished by the parents.

A preliminary charge of unlawful use of an intoxicating compound was filed against each yesterday, pending juvenile court action.

Home invasion in State Park

Area authorities are investigating a home invasion and armed robbery case in State Park Place which occurred at 650 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Barbara Delemeter, 34, of 8501 Rear Fairway Drive, State Park, told police two men, one wearing a mask, forced their way into her home at gunpoint, tied the victim and her two sons, ages 10 and 13, and took $400 cash and a small diamond ring.

The victims managed to free themselves and called police from a neighbor's house. The Illinois State Police Division of Criminal Investigation has been called into the case.

Day GED class offered by BAC

A new free General Educational Development daytime class will begin Feb. 11 at Belleville Area College. The class is open to all residents of Belleville Area College District 522.

Classes will be from 12 noon to 2:45 p.m. each Monday and Thursday until June 12 on the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

GED classes help students prepare to pass the high school equivalency examination. All interested persons are to go to Room 1421 on the main campus, which is at the intersection of Illinois 161 and Green Mount Road by 11:30 a.m. on Feb. 11. More information is available from the GED Department at BAC, 235-2700.

Many elderly in classrooms

The idea of an 80-year-old returning to school for a high school diploma is apparently unique, judging by the publicity that C. J. Fietz of Belleville received when reporters learned he had enrolled for General Educational Development classes at Belleville Area College.

But at BAC, older Americans who are continuing to learn and to grow is not unusual. There is one GED class in Caseyville, operated as a BAC extension center, where the enrollment is all senior citizens, ranging from 62 to 80 years of age. Almost 200 people have taken advantage of the reduced tuition policy for those 60 years of age or older. They can register for any class on campus on a space available basis for only $2 a credit hour compared to the $14 other students pay.

Fietz, who has reared five boys and a girl to educated adulthood, has only an eighth grade education himself, but is determined to get his high school equivalency certificate. In the process, his determination has inspired several others of advanced years to continue their education.

"Several of my friends have called me and told me, 'If you can do it, I can do it,'" Fietz says. "They are going to enroll in some art courses and other kinds of subjects next semester."

Fietz's second wife (the first Mrs. Fietz died in 1967), Audrey, is—in fact—enrolled in a credit class in Spanish, preparing for an expected summer visit to Mexico.

She recalls that when she and her sister were in Mexico last year, they wanted to attend a folk dance festival but ended up at a rodeo; there was an obvious lack of communication with the cab driver. She intends to prevent that kind of thing from recurring.

Their attitudes are considered typical of those of most of the 3,000 older persons who take advantage of BAC's Programs and Services for Older Persons. Audrey says, "I like to be doing something worthwhile." And she says of her class, "Spanish is fun. The Spanish people are fun. I love the mariachis."

She has friends around the world. She hopes to be able to visit a young friend in Poland within the next year or two. "But BAC will have to start a class in Polish!" she laughs.

The prie C. J. Fietz takes in returning to the "hallowed halls of learning" is exceeded by the accomplishments of his children and his grandchildren.

An interview with the old gentleman resulted in little discussion of his life, but much detail about how well his children have done, and how proud he is of the three grandchildren he has joined in attending Belleville Area College.

Fietz contrasts his

Buck named as Gateway board member

The appointment of Dr. James R. Buck, executive assistant to the president of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council has been announced by Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board of Supervisors.

Dr. Buck, who has been a member of the East-West Gateway Regional Forum for more than a year and recently was elected vice chairman, is one of six lay persons on the 21-member board of directors.

The Gateway Council is the regional planning agency for the St. Louis metropolitan area, including the City of St. Louis and four Missouri counties—St. Louis, St. Charles, Franklin and Jefferson—and three Illinois counties, Madison, St. Clair and Monroe.

The Council also acts as a clearinghouse for programs that require federal financing.

The board, which meets on a monthly basis, is comprised of locally-elected officials from throughout the region, as well as citizens. It is involved in policy-making decisions for the Council as well as the region.

At SIUE, Dr. Buck has responsibility for university relations, one of the four functional areas of the university.

He is a member of the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education, the Society for College and University Planning, the National Society for Fund-Raising Executives, the Public Relations Society of America and the Illinois Manufacturers Association.

Dr. Buck is also active in other community advancement efforts, serving on the Illinois advisory board of the Regional Commerce and Growth Association and the executive board of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America. A resident of Edwardsville, he is a past chairman of the March of Dimes walkathon for the Edwardsville-Collinsville area.

Pupils learn how ice cream is made

Making quality ice cream is not a simple matter, students at two Granite City grade schools learned last week after viewing a film about the manufacture of a dessert that seldom loses its taste appeal to youngsters.

Bob Jones, owner-operator of Baskin-Robbins 31 American Village Shopping Center, visited the classrooms to show the 18-minute color movie.

Viewing the film were sixth grade students of Ted Brown at Mitchell School and Carol Gendron's fourth grade class at Parkview School.

Jones said the movie explains how ice cream is made, taking the viewer through the complete process.

Quality control is shown in the continuous scientific laboratory testing of materials and product, plus the taste-testing and evaluation of random samples from all over the world by a panel of experts.

"The deep freezing process and transporting the product by refrigerated trucks to ensure freshness also are detailed in the film."

"The children really ask a lot of questions after seeing the movie," Jones reported. Teachers wishing to have the film presented to their pupils may contact Jones, at 877-6317, to make arrangements, he said.

Tours of the local store frequently attract area Brownie troops, with Mrs. Brock Jones escorting the groups.

The mouth watering scenes in the movie usually leave the viewer with a desire to taste the ice cream, Jones admitted.

"To satisfy this feeling, we take along some treats for the children," the ice cream store operator said.

Prisoner changes name

Madison County sheriff's deputies said Friday a young man who identified himself as David Allan Myrt of Jennings, Mo., when he was arrested after a robbery in Mitchell Tuesday, Jan. 29, has told authorities he gave them a false name and his real name is David Patrick Bird, 23, Richmond Heights, Mo.

A warrant charging him with robbery and setting his bond at $50,000 has been amended to the correct name, deputies said.

Bird and a Riverview Gardens woman were arrested after a robbery at the E. & L. Quick Shop, 527 Maryville Road, Mitchell, in with about $70 was taken. She also is charged with robbery for allegedly driving the auto in which they planned to leave the scene after the robbery.

AUTO IS STOLEN

The car of William R. Hall, 900 Third St., Venice, was stolen from the parking lot of Debbie's Lounge, 1224 Madison Ave., Madison, between 6 and 11 p.m. Saturday.

9 arrested

Nine teenagers and young adults were arrested in one station wagon after it allegedly was involved in a hit-and-run accident on the parking lot of Kozayak's Market, Nameoki Road, and Pershing Boulevard, at 2:40 a.m. Sunday.

Police investigated the accident in which the parked car of Randy Tift, 4667 Kirkpatrick Homes, was struck by a blue and green station wagon, which left the scene.

Area police departments were asked by radio to watch for the vehicle and a Madison County sheriff's deputy reported he had stopped the auto at Johnson Road and Wahash Avenue a short time later.

The driver, Robert W. Blackwell, 21, of 2112 North Ave., was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, since four youths under the age of curfew were allegedly in the car.

Carolyn S. Ellis, 17, of 4501 Kirkpatrick Homes, a 16 year old Kirkpatrick Homes boy and two girls from Kirkpatrick Homes, ages 15 and 16, were charged with violating curfew.

Charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, in addition to Blackwell, were Bobby L. Ellis, 18, of 4501 Kirkpatrick Homes, Scott D. Rushing, 18, of 2503 Kirkpatrick Homes, Gary R. Caughron, 18, of 2871 Madison Ave., and Robert A. Elmore, 20, who has no permanent residence, police said.

BURGLARY ON DENVER

An Army footlocker containing a car stereo, two speakers, seven tape recordings, some old silver coins and personal papers and photos was stolen from the home of Terry Wickman, 2836 Denver St., between 7:45 and 8 p.m. Saturday. A bedroom window was pried open to gain entry.

Post 10-4 featured in national magazine

The January-February issue of The Police Marksmanship, a national publication, includes a feature article on Law Enforcement Exploring and highlights the activities of Explorer Post 10-4 in Madison.

The Madison Explorer post is sponsored by Madison Police Unit 110 of the Police's Benevolent and Protective Association.

The article in the official publication of the Police Marksmanship Association, written by Marilyn LaCombe, came as a complete surprise to Post 10-4 members and leaders.

The article on the 10-year history of Post 10-4 calls attention to the Explorers; their organization of other posts; the post's record as second oldest post in the Cahokia Mound Council and the first law enforcement post; assistance provided by Madison police department in both police and civic activities.

Also, the cadre of over 62 former members that still not only helps the post but furnishes leadership to many of the activities of the Cahokia Mound Scout Council; the use of "Sgt. Otto," a unique auto that is the creation of Police Chief Donald L. Bridick; a job placement service the post offers members; work with pre-delinquent and delinquent youth; and assistance given the post by its sponsor, PB & FA Unit 110.

Arrest two behind school

Randy C. Hillis, 19, of 2619 Cayuga St., and John Whitford, 19, of 2810 W. 22nd St., were arrested behind Prather Junior High School at 8:05 p.m. Thursday and were charged with theft for allegedly siphoning gasoline from the pickup truck of Homer Station, a custodian at the school.

An officer alleged he saw the two near the truck with a gasoline can and they fled when the squad car approached, but stopped when ordered to do so. A garden hose was running from the truck's gas tank to the can and about one and one-half gallons of gas was in the can, police alleged. The two were released on $37 cash bond each at 11:25 p.m. Thursday.

LOOT APARTMENT

Items valued at about $700 were stolen during a burglary at the apartment of Eugene Dunnivant, 1432 Sixth St., Madison, it was discovered at 5:50 p.m. Friday. Entry was gained by kicking the front door open. Taken were a color television set, a stereo receiver and a turntable.

Big effort to cut erosion run-off from farms

Illinois' master plan to reduce erosion and run-off pollution from farmlands will soon be sent to the state's 98 Soil and Water Conservation Districts for local planning.

The federally required statewide plan to improve stream water quality has just been approved by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. After about three months of public comment, the rules in the plan will take effect.

Local conservation districts will be given two years to develop local guidelines within the statewide standards. More than $500,000 already has been committed to the new effort.

The Illinois Department of Agriculture, which will be working with the EPA on the water quality effort, has reorganized to emphasize erosion control and to assist conservation districts in their planning. Jim Frank, who has been the Illinois EPA's agricultural adviser, will head Agriculture's new program.

The plan, which largely relies on voluntary cooperation of farmers, has set several goals that must be met if it is to remain voluntary in nature. At the time the plan was approved by the U.S. EPA, federal officials made it plain that mandatory controls will be demanded if farmers don't cooperate.

As part of the voluntary plan, local conservation district staffs will be beefed up and additional state money will be made available for sharing up to 75 percent of the cost of erosion control structures.

The EPA plan calls for $18 million in cost-sharing funds by 1984 and more than $6.5 million for technical assistance to conservation districts.

A statewide agricultural task force of farmers, university personnel, government officials and others has estimated that as many as 23 million acres would need some type of conservation practice. As many as four million acres of terraces could be required.

Erosion-cutting goals call for no land in the state to lose more than 50 tons of soil a year by 1982.

Further goals are: no soil loss to exceed 40 tons per acre per year by 1983; 30 tons by 1984; 20 tons by 1985, and 10 tons by 1988.

By 1990, it is expected that no gently sloping land in the state will exceed acceptable erosion values (set by soil conservationists as the level to maintain agricultural productivity), which will be two to five tons per acre on such land.

By the year 2000, all land in the state should fall within the acceptable range, which goes as high as five tons per acre on some soils in some areas.

Final authority for enforcement and monitoring of the plan falls with the EPA and the Illinois Pollution Control Board, which is an administrative court for pollution complaints.

The state's plan is being described as a logical way to address a complex problem. Farmers will be working to protect public waters and will benefit from increased productivity in the long term, agronomists say.

The plan also calls for sharing of the cost with society—which will share in the benefits of cleaner water—through tax-funded programs to assist conservation-minded farmers.

SECURITY UNION OFFICERS

Gene Robertson has been elected to a two-year term as president of Local 764, International Chemical Workers Union, which represents the security unit at Granite City Steel. ### Consumer staff studying taxes

An income tax workshop is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 7, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon for program assistants and community workers from the Consumer and Homemaking Education Program (CHEP). A refresher course is being held at the East St. Louis CHEP office.

C. A. Bock, University of Illinois specialist in agricultural law, will review with the program assistants and community workers how to file income tax returns. They, in turn, will be available to help any interested people in Madison area St. Clair counties.

The objective of CHEP is to teach low-income families a n a g e m e n t a n d homemaking skills. Among lessons taught to homemakers are credit, budgeting, food buying, child development, health and community resources.

For more information about CHEP, Quad-Cityans may contact Dorie Seibel, P.O. Box 645, Edwardsville 62627 anytime or, on Mondays may call 877-7345 (Madison), Tuesdays 876-0419 (East St. Louis) or Wednesdays 462-9520 (Alton).

Arrests in Collinsville

Collinsville police reported last week that they have charged Gregory Brawley, 20, Venice, and Karen Austin, 19, Caseyville, with possessing a felony amount of marijuana in the Greenwood high school vocational parking lot.

Officers said they noticed empty beer cans outside Brawley's car. When they asked him and Miss Austin to step out, marijuana was found in the car, it was alleged.

Officers alleged seizing three marijuana cigarettes, a bag of marijuana and a jar of alleged marijuana seeds. The substances weighed 38.3 grams, or 1.35 ounces, according to authorities.

The two have been released on bond.

HIT FROM BEHIND

Mrs. Betty Gerdes, 48, of 5445 Maryville Road, was injured in an auto accident last week when her vehicle was struck from behind, injuring her neck and right shoulder. She sought treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where X-rays were taken and she was released.

St. Mary-St. Mark musical

Pupils in all eight grades at St. Mary-St. Mark Parochial School in Madison will present "Music Machine" Thursday and Friday at Engelbert Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue.

The musical will be presented at 7:30 p.m. on both days, according to Sister Barbara, school principal.

Jack Jenkins, director of music, is coordinating the program.

Props for the production are being constructed by the students, with Mrs. Frances Page in charge of the stage settings.

Solos, duets, quartets and other parts in the show will feature pupils from first through eighth grade classes, Jenkins noted.

"This dramatic musical adventure is designed to reach into the homes with the spiritual truth found in the fruit of the spirit," the director said.

"Music Machine" is being presented as part of the Catholic Education Week celebration.

The week-long observance continues through Sunday, Feb. 10.

The public is invited to attend either performance, the principal said.

BRASS QUINTET TO GIVE RECITAL

The Gateway Brass Quintet will perform a guest recital Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. in Lovejoy Library auditorium at SIUE, free and open to the public.

The group is composed of area musicians, including Michael Quint, trumpet; Dave Bruenger, trombone; and John MacEnulty, a St. Louis Symphony member, tuba. Selections will include works by J. S. Bach, William Brade, Giovanni Gabrieli, Johann Pezel, Samuel Scheidt and Tilman Susato.

Madison in academic tournament at BAC

Madison High School will field a team of 12 students in a state academic tournament sponsored by the University of Illinois and the Junior Engineering Technical Society.

The team will take one-hour exams in district competition at Belleville Area College on Wednesday, Feb. 6.

Schools are divided into two groups, double A and A, depending on school size. Fourteen teams in each classification will enter district competition. The highest scoring team will then advance to regional competition in March.

Madison students competing and their areas of competition are: Mary Busto mathematics and English, Carol Paskus and Karen Lapinski, both biology and English, Barbara Hodge calculator and English, Troy Butler chemistry and calculator, Matthew Thomas chemistry and mathematics, Tyrone Many chemistry and calculator, Jim Riskovsky chemistry and physics, Ron Graville mathematics and physics, Darlene Bennett mathematics and biology, and Ed Burns and Steve Dohnal, both biology.

Nutrition, social service grants

The Southwest Illinois Area Agency on Aging is accepting applications for grants to provide nutrition services and social services to the elderly in Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington counties in Illinois.

Funding is authorized under Title III-C (nutrition services) and Title III-B (social services) of the Older American Act of 1965, as amended.

Approximately $450,000 in federal funds under Title III-C and $450,000 under Title III-B will be made available for a nine-month period beginning Oct. 1, 1980, and ending June 30, 1981.

Organizations applying for funds must submit applications in duplicate by 5 p.m. March 28; there will be no exceptions to this deadline.

Organizations are also requested to submit a letter of intent to apply for Title III Funds to SWIAA by Feb. 29, using the following format: "Name of organization intends to apply for (indicate Title III-C or Title III-B) funds for Fiscal Year 1981 to provide services to the elderly in (list specific proposed service areas)."

Applications will be reviewed on the basis of correctness of application, appropriate cost figures, the meeting of priority needs of those 60 years of age or older, and the meeting of federal guidelines.

Two separate workshops will be held to assist applicants in preparation of applications.

A workshop for Title III-B applicants will be held on Feb. 13, 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the Illinois Room of the SIUE at Edwardsville University Center; a workshop for Title III-C applicants will be held on Feb. 14, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., in the Missouri Room of the SIUE.

Requests for applications and information may be directed to SWIAA, 9707 State St., East St. Louis, Ill. 62203 (telephone, 397-4118). The funding figures cited are subject to revision, pending a final allocation award by the Illinois Department on Aging.

Bubblemasters dance Saturday

The Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club will sponsor its 10th annual Valentine Day dinner dance, starting at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison.

The public is invited to attend. Tickets may be purchased this week by calling the general chairman, Paula Weiss, at 452-1633, or may be obtained at the door Saturday night.

A reservation is preferred, Mrs. Weiss said.

The tickets cost $11 each and include a buffet dinner and dancing to the music of the Harry Simon Band.

Proceeds from the event are used to finance operations of the scuba diving club.

Part of the Bubblemasters' year-round schedule of activities in volunteer sponsorship of IMRT, the underwater recovery team that provides emergency recovery services without charge to area law enforcement agencies upon request.

Saturday's gala event starts with a "happy hour" from 7 to 8 p.m.

A catered buffet dinner will be served, commencing at 8 p.m., followed by dancing from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Numerous prizes will be awarded throughout the evening, according to Glen Gates, Bubblemasters president.

Further information about the event may be secured by contacting the chairman or any member of the entertainment committee.

Committee members include Glen and Barb Gates, Vance Weiss, Bruce and Pat Evans, Everett and Joan Rieck, Arnold and Marian Sanders, Elva Jean Weiss, Bud Horstmeier.

Paul Foster, Bill and Mary Brannan, Bill and Vicki Horton, Tom and Connie Mueller and Gary and Sue Giovanni.

The Bubblemasters will hold a regular business meeting of the club at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Granite City Civil Defense Building, 1411 Nineteenth St., Gates announced.

Car hits guardrail

Andrew Sarkady, 34, and Mrs. Deborah Sarkady, 26, both of Springfield, Ohio, were treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 6:20 p.m. Wednesday after their auto swerved to avoid an approaching car and ran into a guardrail.

She suffered an abrasion to her right knee and to the right side of her forehead. He suffered pain to his chest and neck. Both were released after X-rays were taken.

BUS HITS BUILDING

Earl Prost, 47, Union, Mo., a Bi-State bus driver, was injured when his bus ran into a building last week and he struck his right thigh and right ribs. He was X-rayed at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was released.

Higher income guidelines for Chouteau sewer funds

The guidelines for persons eligible to apply for financial assistance from Chouteau Township in having their home sewers linked to the new sanitary sewers have been changed, so more persons will qualify for the program, according to Chouteau Supervisor Walter "Duke" Sparks.

"We have Community Development funds set aside to help our residents who are going to find it difficult, financially, to pay someone to change their home sewer from septic tanks to the new sanitary sewers and we would like to use this money to help as many people as possible."

"This is not a loan which needs repaid. It is outright assistance, with no strings attached. The only requirements are that you live in the township and the sewer district, you can show that your income is within the program guidelines and you own, or are purchasing, the home in which you live," he noted.

"New guidelines from the Department of Housing and Urban Development will enable more persons to qualify for the program, so those who were not previously eligible should examine the attached chart closely to determine if they may now apply," Sparks explained.

"We have been unable to decide yet whether we are going to hire someone to put in sewers for those who signed up, or if we are going to just purchase the pipe for them. Either way, we are going to make the money we have stretch as far as we can to help as many people as possible."

"It is important that property owners apply immediately, so we may finalize how we are going to do this when we compare the number of applications to the funds available."

"Since homes may be hooked onto the new county sewers this summer, time is running out," he emphasized.

He noted the new HUD guidelines have increased the allowable maximum incomes for families eligible for the program. For a person living alone, the maximum income has been increased 40 percent, from $6,000 to the $8,400 per year the person now may earn and still be eligible for the aid.

For a family of two, the income maximum has been increased from $7,400 in the previous program to $9,675 per year. For three persons in a family, the maximum income now is $10,876, where it used to be $8,800.

A family of four now may earn $12,100 and qualify for the program, rather than the old limit of $11,000.

For six persons in a house, total annual income may be as high as $13,775, rather than the old limit of $12,000, and families of seven persons now may earn $14,600 per year and still qualify, rather than the old limit of $13,000.

"The attached chart may be used to determine whether your family is eligible for this assistance," Sparks explained.

"Persons who applied under the lower income guidelines do not have to send in new applications. We have kept all forms that have been sent in and will notify them when we are ready to make the final agreement," he added.

He urged anyone who has not yet applied and who is eligible under the higher income guidelines to clip out the coupon and mail it to the address on the coupon, or to visit the township hall on North Thorngate Drive, behind the Midwest Motel.

"Township employees will be happy to assist property owners in filling out the form, if help is needed," Sparks said.

GC La Leche Group to meet

The newly organized Granite City Group of La Leche League will hold its first meeting on Monday, Feb. 11, 1980, at 7:30 p.m. at 36 Eduardo Drive. The name La Leche is Spanish and means "the milk."

A non-sectarian, non-profit organization, the League seeks to help encourage "good mothering through breastfeeding."

For subsequent meetings, the group will meet the first Monday of each month. During a series of four meetings, the group in formally discusses different phases of breastfeeding. Topic for the first meeting is "Advantages to Mother and Child."

All women who are interested in nursing their babies are invited, as are their babies. "You need not be pregnant or even have a family to attend. If you are a wife and hope some day to have children, if you are a grandmother, if you are interested, you are welcome," a spokesman said.

La Leche League began in a Chicago suburb over 20 years ago when one mother who had successfully nursed her baby helped another who wanted to.

This is still the basic approach, although the league is now international in scope, with more than 4,000 groups helping countless women in the U.S., Canada and over 40 other countries. For further information about the Granite City La Leche Group, women may call 831-6774.

Hearing Tuesday on rail corridors

The question of whether the state should purchase abandoned rail corridors, so they may be preserved for possible future rail development or public use, is to be discussed during a public hearing beginning at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the Holiday Inn of Edwardsville, Route 157 north of Interstate 270.

State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) is chairman of a special six-member subcommittee of the Illinois Transportation Study Commission which is considering the desirability of establishing a state program to acquire the abandoned rail rights-of-way, similar to programs in Wisconsin and Michigan.

The rail corridors, if purchased by the state, can be used for recreation, public utilities, wildlife habitat, natural area preservation, hiking or bicycle trails or other uses, while still keeping the contiguous land available for future rail, highway or other public transportation modes.

Vadalabene said, "It is obvious that once these rights-of-way are abandoned by the railroads and have passed into private ownership, it will be difficult or impossible to re-establish these corridors if they are needed for public use in the future."

Blanche Steinberg dies

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Thursday in St. Louis County for Mrs. Blanche Steinberg, 10223 Bilson Court, Apt. 2, St. Louis, who resided most of her life in the Quad-City area.

Mrs. Steinberg died at 3:30 a.m. Wednesday at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, of a sudden heart ailment. She had been hospitalized one day.

Mrs. Steinberg and her husband, Herman, were married in 1922 and ran the Steinberg furniture stores in Madison and Granite City for more than 50 years.

She was born in Austria-Hungary, and her family moved to Madison when she was nine months old. She attended Madison public schools and about 35 years ago the family moved from Madison to Granite City.

Mrs. Steinberg was to have received her 50-year pin from the Order of Eastern Star last week. She also was a longtime member of the Nameoki Women's Club and held membership in the former Madison chapter of B'nai B'rith. She belonged to the United Hebrew Congregation in St. Louis.

Surviving, besides her husband, are two sons, David Steinberg of Chesterfield, Mo., and Paul Steinberg of Creve Coeur, Mo.; a daughter, Mrs. Stan (Dorothy) Maer of Creve Coeur, a sister, Mrs. Rose Lutsker of Phoenix, Ariz.;

eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Graveside services were held at B'nai Amoona Cemetery, St. Louis County.

Performance by Symphony

The University Symphony Orchestra of SIUE will perform Friday, Feb. 8, at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Under the direction of Robert Schieber, the orchestra will perform selections by Beethoven, Brahms and Shostakovich. The concert is free and open to the public.

SIUE faculty members of music performing with the orchestra will include: Marcia LaReau, percussion; Kent Perry, viola; Joseph Pival, cello; and Michael Quint, horn.

University Symphony Orchestra members from Granite City are: Cindy Johnson, piano; Michael Kelly, viola; Rebecca McCommis, oboe; Robin Robertson, bassoon; and Karen Schneider, clarinet.

Meet on sewer taxes

A special meeting to discuss complaints by Nameoki Township residents in the special sewer district who are paying the sewer tax but do not feel they should be in the sewer district, has been called by Nameoki Supervisor Harold Davis for 7 p.m. Thursday in the township hall, 4250 Highway 162.

Davis said some residents in the sewer district already are being served by Granite City sewers and are being "double taxed," paying both the city and the county for sewer service.

Others have been included in the county's special sewer district and are forced to pay the taxes for construction of the sewers "even though the county never intended to provide them with sewers," he said.

Current state law does not allow anyone to detach from the sewer district and the terms under which construction bonds were sold probably would prohibit the boundaries of the district from being reduced, Davis believes.

"I don't know if we can do anything for these people, since present law does not allow them to detach from the sewer taxing district, but I think we can, at least, sit down and talk about it and get some ideas," Davis said.

Areas primarily affected include Pine Street, Miracle Manor, Steelcrest Subdivision and the Gorge Addition.

"I believe that they deserve better than they are getting and should attend this meeting to discuss it," Davis said.

Open house at parochial school

An open house and all-school variety show will take place Thursday, starting at 7 p.m., at St. Margaret Mary Parochial School.

Students from all grade levels will present the show under the direction of Sister Marie Monica, principal, and Mrs. Mary Frances Rarick and Sister Marilyn Therese, faculty members. The public is invited to attend the performance. The open house and classroom visitation will follow the show.

Good news for sanitary district— Cahokia may assume sewer repairs

Indications that Cahokia may be willing to assume the responsibility—and costs—for repairing the main Cahokia sewer trunk line were greeted warmly by members of the Metro-East Sanitary District's Board of Trustees during a meeting Friday morning in Washington Park.

In a letter to the board, the mayor of Cahokia indicated he felt the possibility the city could take over a federal grant for the majority of the repair cost and could complete the project the sanitary district started should be discussed.

The sanitary district, which has been unable to complete the repairs, due to a fund shortage, immediately after a meeting at 9 a.m. today in the office of St. Clair County Supervisor FRANCIS Touchette with representatives of Cahokia and other areas involved to discuss the proposal.

In other business at the sanitary district board meeting Friday, notification was read that the district and the city of Caseyville are being sued by the office of Attorney General William J. Scott for alleged refusal to repair a break in the Lansdowne sewer trunk line in Caseyville.

The case was referred to attorney John Sprague of Belleville to defend the sanitary district.

The suit alleges negligence through failure to repair the break. Trustees indicated the district does not have funds to make the repair, but applied for federal disaster funds, since the break was caused by flooding and a high water table.

Federal disaster officials ruled the break was not eligible for flood funds and the sanitary district appealed the decision. The appeal was lost, but the district still is fighting that decision, the trustees said.

The suit by the attorney general's office seeks an injunction ordering the district and the city to repair the break.

The board reversed its previous decision and voted to allow the Illinois Department of Transportation to put a lift station along the proposed route of the new Interstate 270 extension at Cahokia Downs Race Track.

The district's engineering firm, Hurst and Rosche, initially advised against constructing the lift station, but studied the interstate plans and changed their recommendation, concluding that the highway will interfere with the gravity flow of the water and would create flooding, unless a lift station is built.

The sanitary district had resisted the proposal, since the district will be responsible for operating and maintaining the lift station, even though the IDOT will pay to have it installed.

Increase loans for alcohol, other energy projects here

The U.S. Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is making farm loans available for on-the-farm production of alcohol and other petroleum-saving sources of fuel and energy.

Gary L. Mersinger, Madison County supervisor, announced that national agency officials have given a go-ahead for the use of FmHA farm real estate and production loans for "energy alternatives that are shown to be reliable and practical for use on the farm."

The FmHA office in Edwardsville is prepared to receive applications for the financing of fuel-alcohol or other energy devices that Madison or St. Clair counties farmers propose to install on their farms.

Most fuel produced with the loans is expected to be made from farmers' own grain or other raw material and used by the producing farmer as a home-made substitute for petroleum products.

The agency's action is in keeping with President Carter's objective of reducing dependence on imported petroleum.

"Farm ownership and operating loans may be made for a wide variety of energy-related purposes such as insulation, solar heating and drying equipment, methane gas facilities and fuel alcohol distilleries," Mersinger said.

"Regulations on lending by FmHA, a U.S. Department of Agriculture credit agency, limit its farm ownership and operating loans to the owner-operators or tenant operators of family-size farms."

"Others may qualify for loans under a special economic emergency program or for improvement of farm soil and water resources. Loans can be made only to applicants who show they cannot get adequate credit from other sources."

In non-emergency farm loan programs, loans obtained directly from FmHA are limited to $200,000 for real estate purposes and $100,000 for operating purposes. The limits are $300,000 and $200,000, respectively, if loans are made by commercial lenders and guaranteed by FmHA.

"FmHA has also been authorized to open up its rural business-industrial (B&I) loan guarantee to help establish more large industrial alcohol fuel distilleries and methane plants."

"Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland has approved making $100 million of the agency's B&I loan budget available for that purpose in the current fiscal year ending Sept. 30."

"His announcement said the $100 million could account for about 25 percent of President Carter's goal of 500 million-gallon annual gasoline production capacity in the U.S. by 1981."

Discussions on youth education, health, abuses

The Illinois PTA has announced its "We Dare to Care" International Year of the Child project. Wilson School PTA will be conducting a series of discussion groups, utilizing materials developed by the Illinois PTA.

The groups will discuss concerns which affect children. Such topics as health, education, recreation, drug abuse, alcohol misuse, and parenting concerns will be included.

The packets of materials are available free of charge, upon request, to any group concerned with children and youth. Persons interested in becoming a member of a discussion group or wanting to obtain the materials may contact Bill Smithson, president of the Wilson PTA, at 797-0130.

Statewide response information will be gathered by the Illinois PTA and transmitted to the planning committee of the Illinois White House Conference on Children who is scheduled to be held in November 1980.

The information will also be analyzed to help ESO abolish future priorities in the work of the Illinois PTA.

Pregnancy Medicaid

The acting directors of the Illinois Departments of Public Aid and Public Health, Jeffrey C. Miller and William L. Kempin, announced Friday a new policy that makes certain pregnant women with no other children eligible for Medicaid assistance.

Under the policy, an expectant mother who would be eligible for either Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) or Medical Assistance following the birth of her child, will now be eligible for prenatal care paid through Medicaid while she is pregnant.

The policy change is a result of the passage of House Bill 1686 during the last legislative session.

The original push to change the policy was made by the state health department's Division of Family Health, Kempin, a former member of the Illinois House of Representatives, was the chief sponsor of the bill.

Miller said, "This new policy makes the essential medical care available to low-income pregnant women, thus giving them and their children better chances for good health."

Applications for Medicaid may be obtained at local and county public aid offices.

Antique dolls are viewed by history group

The Madison County Genealogical and Historical Society met at the Spalding home in Pontoon Beach. Speakers for the evening were Mrs. Mildred Cryder of Bethalto and her granddaughter, Jennifer.

They spoke on antique dolls and brought a sampling of their respective collections. Afterward, new officers for 1980 were installed. They are:

President, Louis Joyner. Vice-president, Dorothea Kirksy. Secretary-treasurer, Ruth Jensen.

Corresponding secretary, Dewey Jones.

The February meeting will be held Feb. 21 at the home of Louis and Oliver Joyner, 1941 Benton St., at 7:30 p.m.

Child hurt on Johnson Road

A child was injured in a three-vehicle accident at the entrance to Ponderosa Steak House, 1511 Johnson Road, at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Police were told the auto of Clifford Dietiker, 2525 Pine St., was turning left from the restaurant parking lot and the pickup truck of Donna Leonard, 3601 Lake Drive, Ltd. 228, Pontoon Beach, westbound on Johnson Road, stopped to allow the car out.

The auto of Michael Richardson, 3234 Kilarney Avenue, was westbound in the center lane, passing the pickup truck, when it collided with Dietiker's auto, officers were told. When the two collided, Richardson's auto skidded into the pickup truck.

Catherine A. Richardson, 2, a passenger in her father's car, was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was examined and was released.

Man with gun is arrested

Victor McKee Hawkins, 19, East St. Louis, was charged with unlawful possession of a firearm in a vehicle and failure to have a firearm owner's identification card after police alleged finding a loaded .38-caliber pistol in a holder next to him in a parked car behind Schermer Brother's Market, 12th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison, at 2:25 p.m. Friday.

The owner of the car, who was shopping in the store when Hawkins was arrested, returned to the car and also was taken into custody, but was released when the gun was found to belong to Hawkins, police said.

Hawkins was released at 4:55 p.m. Friday on $200 cash bond.

Hazel Pfoender, 92, dies

Mrs. Hazel E. (Russell) Pfoender, 92, of the Colonades, a former resident of 2921 E. 24th St., died at 2:20 a.m. Saturday at the Colonades, where she had died six and one-half years.

Mrs. Pfoender was born in St. Charles, Mo., and resided here 70 years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and sang in the church choir. She also was a member of the Eastern Star chapter in Richland, Mo.

Her husband, Raymond Pfoender, died March 9, 1941. Surviving are two nieces, Mrs. Lawrence (Lamoyne) Lindsey of Collinsville, and Mrs. Capola Graham of Nashville, Tenn., and a nephew, Fred Von Gruenigen of Washington, D.C.

Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

Three churches to host Lenten service program

Again this year St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard, Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, and First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, will join together to host Lenten services.

The first two services begin on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 20, at 7 p.m. at St. Peter's, the next two observances will be conducted at First Presbyterian and the final two services are planned for Niedringhaus Methodist Church.

Each year the three churches have as a special project the plan of helping others. This will be done this year by supporting "Heifer Project International." Heifer project international is both a philosophy and a program. It is a philosophy sensitive to the meaning of life and brotherhood, and a program that gives living gifts to enrich and sustain life.

Rev. David Maxton noted. Years before hunger and poverty became global issues, Dan West, an Indiana farmer, was handing out powdered milk to women and children in Spain during the Spanish Civil War. There he became aware of the spiritual as well as the practical limitations of charity in meeting endemic needs.

The question was, "How could a man possibly keep his self-esteem if his family depended on a stranger's generosity rather than his own labor for their daily bread?" Mr. West wondered, "And where would the people get milk when the handouts ceased?" West reasoned that it would be better to send heifers to the people so they could produce milk for themselves. To remove the stigma of charity and also multiply the gift, everyone receiving a heifer would be asked to share in the giving by passing on his heifer's first offspring to someone else in need. With this insight Dan West and his friends founded Heifer Project International, believing it better to be his brother than his benefactor, the pastor added.

A first shipment of heifers was sent to Puerto Rico in 1944. The next year shipments were begun to the war-torn countries of Europe and to several communities in the United States.

Rev. Martin said since then, Heifer Project International has become a world-wide, self-help organization of non-sectarian and non-profit providing livestock and poultry and training in their care to needy people in more than 96 countries overseas and more than a dozen states in the United States.

It is clearly observed that farm animals are living tools that convert otherwise useless forage into nutritious meat and milk. For over three decades the project has been sharing livestock and training with needy families in U.S.A. and worldwide. People of all faiths support the work of this program. Last year the three churches sent another thousand dollars to the organization and plan to do the same thing this year.

"Places of Possession," Lenten series of three churches at 7 p.m. each date listed below.

Feb. 20, at St. Peter United Church of Christ, topic "In the Upper Chamber."

Feb. 27, at St. Peter United Church of Christ, "In the Upper Chamber."

Mar. 5, at First United Presbyterian Church, sermon "On Trial Before the High Priest."

Mar. 12, at First United Presbyterian Church, on "On Trial Before Pilate."

Mar. 19, at Niedringhaus Methodist Church, sermon "On the Way to Golgotha."

Mar. 26, at Niedringhaus Methodist Church, on "In the Grave."

During this period of Lent, for six Wednesday evenings, a nursery is provided for children. Choirs, organist and ushers will be on hand when each church hosts the services. Ministers who are participating are Rev. Mary Miller Brueggemann, Rev. Louis Frick, Rev. Robert Landes, and Rev. Maxton.

Ways to avoid a tax refund delay

Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny aside, few things in life are awaited with as much anticipation as an income tax refund check, the IRS Springfield District says. Each year these checks, which will average more than $500 in 1980, go out to four out of every five taxpayers across the nation. Unfortunately, in their haste to mail in their tax forms, the Internal Revenue Service says, millions of taxpayers make careless errors. The errors cause needless delay in the processing of tax returns and the subsequent issuance of refund checks. To help prevent these delays, the IRS urges taxpayers to allow for a "cooling off" period before dropping the return in the mail. The suggestions is to set the return aside for a few hours or a day, and then go back and check the following items:

Have I attached all supporting schedules to my Form 1040?
Is the arithmetic correct?
Are my W-2 forms from all my jobs attached?
Did I use the correct tax table, and did I follow the line across to the correct figure?
Did I check a box for the 1980 presidential election campaign fund?
Is it signed and dated (by both spouses, if a joint return)?

Is the Social Security number correct on my peel-off label?
Is there a stamp on the pre-addressed, coded envelope?
Did I make a copy of the return for my own records?
"A few minutes double-checking these simple items can prevent a delay of weeks in the processing of a tax return," the spokesman said.

131 years of experience guide GC Police Department

Police work a lifelong job...

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Experience is a large part of what makes a good leader and the top five men at the Granite City Police Department have a lot of experience—a total of 131 years.

Capt. Francis McManus, head of the department's service division, celebrated his 30th year with the Granite City police Friday. His years of service are topped only by Lt. Col. George Teller, who now has 32 years of service with the department.

Third on the list of administrators is Chief Ronald Veizer, who has been with the department 26 years. Capt. Harry Mitchell joined the department a year later and has served 25 years. The other administrator is Capt. Bob Astorian, who has served as Granite City policeman for 18 years.

Longevity in the job is not restricted just to the administrators of the police department, as several policemen are approaching their 25th and 30th anniversaries.

Seven officers have surpassed the 20-year mark. Lt. Gerald Pinkerson, Lt. Albert Diak, Lt. Leo Willis, Lt. George Gallas, Patrolman Sam Avedisian, Juvenile Officer Dusan Gagich and Sgt. Joseph Kastelle.

Capt. McManus' 30th year anniversary was celebrated Friday with a small office party and cake. In addition to his service with the police department, he has served as the president of the Granite City Employees' Credit Union the last 23 years and was the vice-president for its first two years in existence, before advancing to president.

Teller has been active in several organizations and has served as president of the Metro-East Juvenile Officers' Association and the Madison County Police Association, and remains on the executive board of the latter group. He is a past board of directors chairman for both Coordinated Youth Services and the Quad-City Mental Health Center and was a chairman of the Madison County Heart Fund campaign. He currently serves on the legislative committee of the Illinois Police Association.

Veizer has served in most offices, including president, of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police, the Southern Illinois Police Chiefs Association, the Madison County Police Association, the Illinois Division of the International Association of Identification and has been treasurer of the Madison County Police Association the past 18 years. He also has been on the board of directors of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (SILEC) since its inception in 1971.

Mitchell has just been elected president of the Metro-East Juvenile Officers' Association, for the second time in recent years.

Astorian has been active in the union for the policemen, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 1347, since he became a policeman and has been president of the local the last 13 years. He served as first vice-president of the union's Council 44 and then served as vice-president in charge of county and municipal employees for Council 31 for seven years.

Each of the administrators holds memberships in the Illinois Police Association and each has received numerous commendations and awards during his career.

Cultures differ along South America's coasts

Mrs. Helen Krumsiek was elected president of Travelers Abroad at the group's January meeting. Also named to serve in 1980 were: Edmund Firner, vice president; Edna Kohlbrecher, secretary; and Genevieve McComis, treasurer.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Elina Hoover, gave an illustrated lecture of her 1978 trip through Panama and the coastal cities of South America. After touring Panama City and the canal, her party visited the San Blas Islands, an archipelago of very small islands, inhabited by the Cuna Indians, who are the only natives of the Caribbean who survived the Spanish conquest.

A colorful race, among the smallest people in the world, the Cunas have a strict color bar and refuse to intermarry or to corrupt their ancient way of life.

The Cuna woman, who is the acknowledged head of the family, wears a large golden ring in her nose and a heavy, black perpendicular line running the length of her nose.

They love brightly colored clothes. Mrs. Hoover said, and specialize in making and selling the mola, an art creation fabricated in a reverse applique process that makes a beautiful wall hanging.

The children clamor to be photographed by tourists, after first demanding payment of a "quarter," she noted.

The San Blas Islands are located in the Caribbean, between 30 and 50 miles from Panama City. They are self governing.

Columbia, the only South American country with seacoast on both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, has 22 million inhabitants, mostly of European stock, with a strong Indian mestizo flavor. Long before Columbia's time, the Chibcha Indians had excellent goldsmiths and were skilled in the arts of weaving and pottery, of which there is still much evidence. In the churches, visitors can see a profusion of gold objects, and on the street natives peddle articles of gold and silver.

By contrast, however, is the constant sight of miserably poor children who earn their livelihood through stealing.

Tourists are warned never to wear wrist watches, because the beggar boys will tear them off of one's hands, cutting them in the process. The poor people, living in wretched hovels, make it a practice to turn children out of their homes, when they become too numerous, with strict orders to support themselves by stealing, Mrs. Hoover explained.

Venezuela and Columbia are the only democracies in South America. Both are well industrialized.

Quito, Ecuador, according to Mrs. Hoover, is the cleanest, most beautiful city on the continent. Located directly on the equator, its altitude is 9,500 feet and its climate is cool. Peru, home of the Incas, was the first land to be conquered by the Spaniards and the first to gain its independence. It was here the conquering Spaniards, led by Pizarro, found vast quantities of gold and silver. Although there are hosts of poor people in Peru, the country has free hospitals and free schooling up to 14 years of age, the speaker advised.

Mrs. Hoover also made a rapid tour of Santiago, Chili, Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro, completing the trip in three weeks.

Guests present at the meeting were Mrs. Katherine Morris and Mrs. Ruth Mann.

Many businesses plan expansions

Nearly three of four business leaders in this metropolitan area plan business expansion, and more than half expect higher net income for 1980.

Sixty-eight percent surveyed believe interest rates will decline in 1980 and only five percent predict an increase.

Ninety-five percent predict a rate of inflation between 8 and 12 percent for the year, while 75 percent surveyed consider inflation the most serious problem facing the St. Louis area economy in 1980.

The survey covers 66 area firms in manufacturing, financial, major retail and service sectors, with more sampling emphasis on the firms employing more than 1,000 persons.

Thirty-nine percent of the respondents employ more than 1,000 persons while 44 percent are in the 100-500 employee category and the remainder are in firms with 500-1,000 employees. In nearly all cases, chief executive officers answered the survey.

The most somber note in the survey centered on economic prospects for the area as a whole. Asked for their prediction on area performance during 1980, 32 percent forecast a decline while 55 percent thought it would remain about the same. Twelve percent predicted improvement and two respondents had no opinion.

More than 80 percent of those surveyed do not foresee serious labor problems in 1980.

The most substantive differences in responses from executives of the larger companies centered on current rates of business and predictions of inflation.

Asked if their current rate of business was improved from one year ago, 58 percent of the larger firms said they are experiencing growth, compared to 40 percent of the smaller firms.

More than 27 percent of the smaller firms are experiencing lower levels of business, compared to only 11 percent of the large companies.

In predicting the annual rate of inflation, heads of the larger companies were more optimistic, with 54 percent expecting an 8-10 percent rate of inflation and 42 percent predicting inflation of 10-12 percent.

More than 52 percent of the spokesmen for the smaller companies believe inflation will be at the 10-12 percent level, with 40 percent opting for 8-10 percent.

Seventy-one percent of all respondents plan expansion in 1980, many of them in two or more areas. Most commonly mentioned expansion areas, in order, were new facilities, new equipment, modernization and additional employment.

Eleven of the 26 larger companies will hire additional people.

Other expansion areas mentioned less frequently were, in order, diversification, new lines of business and, for four firms, overseas investment.

The most frequently mentioned method of financing expansion was retained earnings by a 2 to 1 majority over bank loans. Only two firms plan debt or equity offerings, while three mentioned private placement for financing and three mentioned exchange of stock.

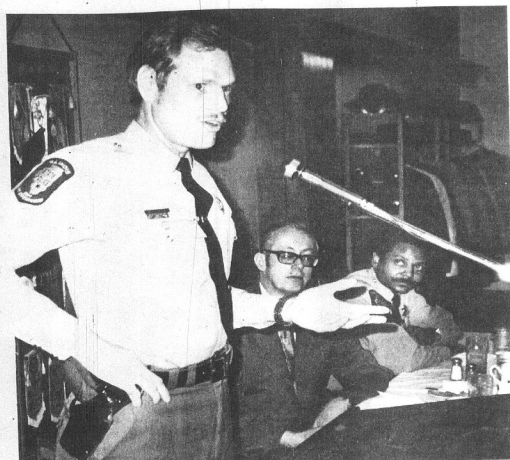

The great majority of firms planning expansion will do so through internal growth. With some firms indicating two or more avenues to expansion, internal growth received 47 mentions, compared to 14 for acquisitions.

Joint ventures received four mentions while formation of new subsidiaries was cited seven times. Only five firms indicated expansion through merger, two of them in the large company category.

Firms not planning expansion simply feel it is not needed. A small number also cited financing costs, economic uncertainty and rising energy costs as reasons.

All respondents were generally in agreement on the two most serious problems facing the St. Louis area economy. Inflation was cited as the number one problem by 75 percent of the respondents and as one of the two most serious problems by 86 percent.

Energy needs ranked second. However, only 9 percent consider it the number one problem, while 41 percent consider it among the two biggest problems.

15-YEAR VETERAN of the Illinois State Police, Jon Lybarger of Granite City, explains the importance of recruiting quality officers for the state police at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club. Seated are Rotarian William Winter, program chairman, and State Trooper Calvin Dye of East St. Louis.

Enrollment record at Ill. State

Illinois State University at Normal-Bloomington has a record spring semester enrollment of 18,466 students.

The official enrollment figure, determined on the 10th day of classes, is 587 students higher than a year ago, and better than the previous record of 17,986 set in the spring semester of 1977.

Current enrollment is only 1,110 students less than the fall total of 19,576, which was also a record. Wilbur R. Venerable, director of admissions and records, said the usual drop is 1,300 to 1,600 students in the second semester.

"This is the smallest decline we have ever had," Venerable said. "He speculated that the scarcity of fulltime employment opportunities may be a factor. 'I thought we would be up slightly, but I didn't expect a record enrollment,'" he said.

Also a record was the total of 1,715 new students. A year ago, 1,153 students enrolled in January at ISU for the first time.

Freshman and senior classes are the largest. By classes (with enrollment from last January in parentheses), they number: Freshman, 4,288 (3,901); sophomore, 3,857 (3,449); junior, 3,707 (3,941); senior, 4,275 (4,134); unclassified, 503 (494); master's, 1,606 (1,732); sixth-year, 63 (52); and doctoral, 167 (176).

The College of Business has the largest enrollment with 4,383 students — up from the 4,090 last January. Other college figures (with last year's total in parentheses): Applied Science and Technology, 3,245 (2,729); Arts and Sciences, 4,069 (4,164); Education, 2,479 (2,557); Fine Arts, 1,126 (1,184); contract majors, 30 (24); general students, 2,236 (1,878); at-large, 395 (426); unclassified, 477 (461); and unclassified nursing, 26 (33).

The ISU fulltime enrollment is 15,350, compared to 14,776 students a year ago.

Two are arrested after disturbance

Joe L. Becker, 33, of Rural Route One, Box 515, Granite City, was charged with assault and disorderly conduct and Lynda J. Bennett, 30, of 2219 Edison Ave., was charged with disorderly conduct after an alleged disturbance at 24th Street and Washington Avenue at 10:20 p.m. Friday. Officers were told a woman was screaming and when they arrived, Sgt. Ronald Selph alleged Becker came at him with his fists clenched shouting profanities. When Selph grabbed Becker, Becker allegedly attempted to take Selph's flashlight away from him. Force was used to subdue Becker, Selph reported.

Mrs. Bennett allegedly was disorderly and argued with Becker, so both were arrested, police said. She posted $35 cash and he posted $70 cash before both were released.

STRUCK ON HEAD

James Parrott, 42, of 2432 Ohio Ave., suffered a bleeding cut to the back of his head as he entered his mobile home at 12:40 a.m. Saturday. Parrott told police he noticed the front door was unlocked and when he entered, someone struck him with something. Police noticed broken glass on the floor, but could not determine if it was related to the incident. Parrott said he has been threatened several times recently.

Orr-Hackett nuptials in candlelight setting

Miss Irene Hackett, 1636 Fifth St., Madison, became the bride of Dale L. Orr, 2420 Edison Ave., at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 25, at the First United Presbyterian Church in Madison.

The Rev. Charlotte Zachary performed a double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with arrangements of white carnations and blue crystal pom-poms. Burning taper candles in candelabra illuminated the sanctuary.

Organist Tom Wilkerson accompanied soloist Charlie Ann Hackett, a sister of the bride. She sang "Evergreen" and "And This is My Beloved."

Miss Hackett is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hackett. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Orr of Laurens, Iowa.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Lewis Hackett, the bride wore a full length ivory crepe back satin gown fashioned with a high waistline, V-neck and long gathered sleeves.

Her ivory illusion veil was train length and was bordered with Venice lace and attached to a matching lace cap.

She held a cascade of gardenias, blue crystal pom-poms, and baby's breath tied with ivory streamers. Matron of honor was Mrs. Rose Stormer, another sister of the bride. She selected a formal blue dress designed with a high neckline, Empire waist and complemented with a long jacket.

Her flowers were identical to the bridal bouquet arranged in a colonial style. Gary Radefeld attended the groom as best man. Randy Stormer, the bride's brother-in-law, seated the guests.

Guests were received by the newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Orr at a reception held in the church hall immediately following the service.

The bride graduated from Madison High School, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and University of Illinois. She is a teacher at Venice High School.

Her husband was graduated from Ware High School, Ware, Iowa, and is employed as a plater for Cipro Plating Co., St. Louis. They are residing in Madison.

Fabrics is program of Creative Women

The January meeting of the Creative Women Home Extension Unit was called to order by Belinda Hoffman. Members gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Aria Ault reported that classes on fitting-alteration of patterns and on chair cane repair will be offered in the near future at the Extension Office.

Joanna Spencer gave a 4-H review concerning the 58' era club. She reported that membership is now 27 and many members are currently doing foot projects.

The minutes were read by Margaret Buske, who also collected stamps for the International Project.

Aria Ault and Gene Zinn presented the unit lesson which was an update on fabrics and textiles. Belinda Hoffman and Judy Baker announced a membership drive to be held by the entire district. Each unit will publicize and then make a presentation at a membership tea to be held Feb. 26, at Hope Lutheran Church, they added.

A game was planned by Martha Leavell with Judy Baker winning a prize. Hostesses were Martha Leavell and Diane Gebhardt.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 18, at Donna Warren's home, 3255 Edgewood Ave. Members present were Aria Ault, Judy Baker, Belinda Hoffman, Joanna Spencer, Margaret Buske, Martha Leavell, Diane Gebhardt and Gene Zinn.

Some of the surprises in the economy during the 1970s came from the changing patterns of the work force in the country. Even considering the recently publicized ballooning of congressional staff personnel, total federal employment (as a percentage of the overall work force) decreased from 3.4% in 1970 to 2.8% at the close of the decade.

The increasing productivity of farmers and ranchers lowered their percentage of the work force from 4% in 1970 to a current level of just over 3 percent. Of course, the big increase in the labor force during the seventies was the number of working age women employed. It was 43 percent in 1970 but had risen to 57% by the end of 1979.

Among the problem areas for the 1970s was the slow growth in productivity. Although productivity (output per person working) is difficult to measure, economic analysts now say the 1970s had a production increase of just over 1 percent. The Sputtering Seventies appear to have been just that, not a boom... not a bust.

What will the eighties bring? We'll be looking at some possibilities during the weeks ahead.

Church Women announce programs

Church Women United of the Quad-Cities has opened a new year of projects and programs of interest to the community with specific plans to aid area residents.

Mrs. Dolores Allen, newly elected president, outlined the objectives of the organization in her president's message last week.

She said, "We are entering into a new decade and in these times we must have a clear sense of direction and commitment. This is a new challenge to Church Women United, which is a movement with a mission; we plan to pray and we dream together."

"I would like to see the representatives from the churches already involved become more involved, and the representatives from other churches express a desire to take an active part in such a great organization."

This is a new challenge for me and I hope and pray for the continuous support and interest shown in the past."

Mrs. Allen also expressed appreciation for the work accomplished by the retiring president, Mrs. Marion Pierson during a two-year term as president.

Forthcoming events of interest to remember include an executive committee meeting set for 1 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 18, at Central Christian Church, 2009 Johnson Road.

Also a Hospice general membership meeting planned for Wednesday, Feb. 27, in the Weisman Room of St. Elizabeth Medical Center to convene at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend, Mrs. Allen noted.

The annual World Day of Prayer is arranged for Friday, March 7, at Bethel A.M.E. Church, 1035 Mark St., Madison.

Registration and coffee will be at 9:15 a.m. with the service to begin at 10 a.m. Mrs. Marilyn Aerne and Mrs. Joan Roberts are co-leaders of the event. The theme, written by women in Thailand, is "Responsible Freedom."

Another executive committee session will be at 1 p.m. on April 21 at Central Christian Church.

May Fellowship Day is scheduled for Friday, May 2, at Central Christian Church with Mrs. Nan Henderson serving as chairman. She will announce final details at a later date, the president added.

Mrs. Allen announced a state assembly will be at Rock Island on June 28-29. For more information those interested are advised to contact Mrs. Joyce Schrader, chairman of the assembly this year.

Continuing programs of the Church Women include their Friends in Learning project which has moved to Webster School. Volunteer tutors work with James Jeffries, school principal, students and faculty to aid children who need special assistance.

Those in the tutoring program are, Florence

Simpson, from Third Baptist Church; Betty Roberts, Mae Lee and Betty Bryant, Trinity Methodist; Lucille Bush, First Presbyterian; Emma Schoen, Dolores Vogeler, Niedringhaus Methodist; Corrine Dawson, Alta Stewart, Betty Tester, Marie Isenberg and Dorothy Wallace, Nameoki Methodist; Dorothea Rivenburg, Central Christian Church; and Margaret Gehling, First Presbyterian Church in Madison.

More volunteers are needed for this project and for information those interested are advised to call Mrs. Dolores Vogeler at 876-1320, the president added.

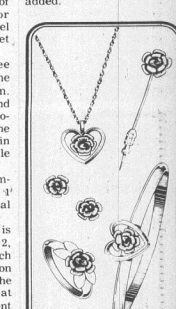

Mrs. Florence Simpson submitted a report on the visitation program noting 17 people are now enjoying occasional visits by volunteers.

Mrs. Mary Ohlendorf, from St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, is the new chairman of the layette program.

The Crop event last year donated $154 for blankets as a result of offerings on May Fellowship Day. They also assembled 50 school kits, which includes hygiene items to be given to children in schools and clinics, Mrs. Rivenburg, chairman, reported.

Another important feature of the organization is the blood donor program under the leadership of Mrs. Louise Anderson. She said the bloodmobile will be in the Granite City area in the spring for those who were unable to participate in the program in December. More information and dates of the visit will be available after a meeting this month, she added.

Valentines Day will long be remembered with a gift of delicate long lasting roses by Klement's in rich display of Gold Orchids. Come see our complete selection.

Substitutes for human muscle; past energy crisis

By LYNN WHITE JR.
(This is the third in a series of 15 articles exploring "Energy and the Way We Live." In this article, Lynn White Jr., author of "Medieval Religion and Technology," discusses two earlier energy shortages. This series, written for Courses by Newspaper, a program of University Extension, University of California, San Diego, was funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, with supplemental funding from the National Science Foundation.)

The words "energy crisis" imply that what the world is now experiencing is an unpleasantness that will be fairly brief and will be solved by some sort of technological fix.

Don't hold your breath until that happens. It may take centuries.

There have been past societies—the Periclean Age, for example—that had very limited, even dwindling, sources of energy but didn't worry greatly about the situation or do much to remedy it.

Rome was a magisterial civilization that got a lot of its energy from plain human muscle, especially the muscles of slaves. But the poor were scarcely better off than slaves. It seems never to have occurred to an educated Roman that slavery kept the wages of free labor at abysmal levels by its completion.

And since so high a proportion of the population lived in great poverty, it was doubtless politically rash to develop other sources of energy or labor-saving devices that would put people out of work.

When, in the first century, an engineer offered Emperor Vespasian a novel machine that could hoist the great columns of a new temple at reduced labor costs, the emperor rewarded him but refused to use his device, saying, "I must feed the little people."

This attitude may account for Roman indifference toward the water-mill, which was invented in the first century before Christ.

One early mention of it is in a lovely Greek poem that urges the slave women to sleep late because the water nymphs have taken over their former task at sun-up of grinding by hand the flour for the meals of the day.

No doubt it is had social strategy to let slaves sleep late. The water-mill was not spread rapidly, or its uses diversified, until after the collapse of the Western Roman Empire and the general conversion of Europe to Christianity.

DECLINE OF MUSCLE POWER

I should be happy to connect the spread of waterpower with Christian opposition to slavery, for slavery declined notably in this period. There is, however, no evidence that Christians in either Antiquity or the Middle Ages condemned slavery.

The withering of slavery was probably caused by failure of slaves to reproduce themselves even at the rate the free population did, which was low. Moreover, the decay of Rome's military power, and less frequent conquests, resulted in a short supply of new slaves.

The Romans thus faced an increasing shortage of workers. Muscle power was giving out. Yet they did amazingly little to find substitutes for muscles.

Perhaps the chief reason why the Roman world went to pieces was failure to recognize and grapple with this problem.

It was not until about the year 800 that waterpower was applied in Europe to industrial tasks other than milling grain. The first signal of a new era came at the abbey of Saint Gall in Switzerland: water-powered trip-hammers were pounding the mash for beer. Then we discover the same device felting cloth.

Soon, such automatic machines were helping to tan leather, crush ore, pump bellows of forges, prepare the pulp for paper, and do the laundry.

In 1204, the first water-powered saw appeared in Normandy, and in 1384 the first water-powered blast furnace in Belgium.

THE MEDIEVAL MENTALITY. All this reflects a mentality worlds apart from that of the Romans. Medieval Europe first developed what we think of as the "modern" ideal of a capital-intensive, labor-saving technology.

In the 1180's, for example, the European type of windmill was invented on the flat lands of Eastern England, and it spread as fast as moving pictures did in the early 20th Century. The Romans scarcely cared about improving energy resources; the Middle Ages were filled with enthusiasm for natural power and new uses of it.

Inevitably there was ecological backlash. In the later 13th Century, water-powered saws were prohibited in one valley of the French Alps because their new productivity of lumber had devastated the forests. In 1322, an English observer credited the deforestation of England in part to the search for long spars to make the vanes of windmills.

New technologies had contributed in other ways to a shortage of wood.

Beginning in the 10th Century, improved agricultural methods had begun to produce much more food, and population had skyrocketed. This meant increased needs for fuel, which then meant wood.

Application of power machines to metallurgical processes reduced costs, increased demand, and put further strains on the wood supply for props in mines, for smelting, and for forging. Wooden ships, wagons and houses increased in number and size.

To make matters worse, Europe's climate began getting colder, so more wood was needed for domestic heating. By the late 13th Century, a wood famine was descending on Europe.

In England the poor, unable to buy wood, turned to coal, which was much more accessible than elsewhere and cheaper than wood. Consequently, by 1300 London had a severe smog problem.

WOOD FAMINE.

Thus the rapidly advancing technology of the Middle Ages, having first produced a higher standard of living than ever before, and a larger population, at last brought about an energy crisis, pollution, and much human misery.

The wood crisis was temporarily solved not by a technological fix but by a vast human tragedy that had little to do with the state of engineering: the Black Death of 1347-1350.

In its first sweep, the plague killed probably one-third of Europe's population. By 1400 Europe contained only about half as many people as in 1347.

Production fell off because half of the market had vanished. Pressure on woodlands declined, and forests gradually restored themselves.

Population generally remained fairly static until the 16th Century, when it rose again. By about 1575 England was once more suffering from a wood famine. People turned quickly to coal again, not only for domestic purposes but also for manufacturing bricks, glass, soap, sugar, salt and the like.

But for a long time coal could not be used in many became the typical energy used in 19th Century industry.

It was the first new source of power discovered since the invention of the windmill 600 years earlier.

It grew out of the effort to substitute coal for wood as the primary fuel and thus meet the energy problem that had begun to afflict Europe severely 500 years earlier, and which, after the catastrophic "solution" of the Black Death, had returned as a threat in the 10th Century.

Perhaps the Romans—or at least their prosperous decision-makers—would not have been bothered by any of these developments, as they were not great, bothered by the growing muscle famine of their own period.

But people in the Middle Ages took the idea of a power-based technology seriously, as we, their descendants, do today.

It needs a fix for the present petroleum famine is becoming the chief goal of our society, because that is the way our minds work. But it may be found more slowly than we expect.

The interim may call for social discipline on our part as well as for inventiveness.

Transfer guest day at SIUC

Admissions officials at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale will roll out the welcome mat Saturday, Feb. 9, for prospective transfer students from two- and four-year colleges during the university's annual Transfer Guest Day.

The event is aimed at acquainting prospective transfer students with the facilities, academic programs, extracurricular activities, and admissions and housing policies.

Scheduled activities include campus tours; meetings with representatives of SIUC academic units; discussions on the university's admissions, housing, and credit transfer policies; student work and financial aid opportunities; and counseling and placement programs.

Eligible students will be able to apply for on-the-spot admissions. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in the SIUC Student Center.

Information is available from the Office of Admissions and Records, SIUC at Carbondale, Ill. 62901. The toll free phone number is 800-642-3531.

Census here, elsewhere will chart changing life style

Dramatic changes in family life, income, housing costs, population distribution and Congressional representation may be revealed by the 1980 census, along with one of the lowest population growth rates in U.S. history. Quad-Cityans are being urged to aid achieve a complete count April 1 to aid local grants and governmental representation.

Gathering and tabulating more than three billion items of information from the public, the 1980 census will sketch a new and unique portrait of the nation, revealing not only number of Americans, but their location, condition, activities and how they are housed.

The census will document the changes indicated in recent years by ongoing Census Bureau surveys, and will spell out in great detail the changes in U.S. society of the past decade.

The American family is one example. The 1980 census is expected to show that: 1. The number of married women who are heading families has soared nearly 50 percent since 1970 to more than eight million.

2. The traditional family household of mother, father and one or more children now accounts for less than a third of the nation's households, the lowest percentage ever.

3. Both husband and wife have some earned income in about half of the 48 million husband-wife families in the U.S., a new high.

4. The number of unmarried couples sharing a household has more than doubled in 10 years.

As for population distribution, the 1980 census is expected to define sizeable population shifts from Northern and Eastern states to the Southern and Western areas.

The 1980 census data will measure population shifts by age, race, ethnic origin, and in other ways. For example, annual surveys by the Census Bureau since 1973 have found that blacks moving to the South outnumber those leaving, reversing a trend of more than 100 years.

The census will determine whether the blacks moving into the South are newcomers or returning to the South, where they are settling, and what job skills they bring—detailing information that surveys by their nature, do not provide.

Income data will be of interest to economists and others. Discounting inflation, there was a 34 percent increase in median family income between 1960 and 1970, but the increase from 1970 to 1978 was only four percent.

The big drop can be attributed to economic sluggishness, to the increase in the number of families maintained by single parents, who tend to have a lower average income, and to changing age structure and family composition. Compared to the 1960s, a higher percentage of people is now in the early, rather than mature, earning years.

The census will also provide data on poverty, useful for allocating federal funds. Surveys have shown little change in the nationwide number of poor during the 1970s, but there have been changes in the composition and distribution. The census is expected to show a continuing increase in the proportion of the poor persons living in families maintained by women, and a decline in the proportion of the poor residing in the South.

The economic impact of the "baby boom" after World War II will continue to be tracked by the census. They have grown to be young adults, ages 18 to 24, and are now in the job market, establishing families, buying homes, and exerting new pressures on the economy because of their numbers.

Housing will be a major aspect of the 1980 census. Government and private industry have a wide demand for the information that will be collected about housing in use, vacant dwellings, and units such as mobile homes. It is expected that the total number of housing units will have increased more than 20 percent since 1970, twice the rate of population growth.

Housing costs will be of concern. A 1976 Bureau survey found, for example, that the average owner of a mortgaged home at that time was paying 18 percent of annual income for the mortgage, real estate taxes, property insurance, utilities, fuel and trash collection.

How the 18 percent figure holds up in 1980, in light of factors such as a 45 percent jump in the average price of a new one-family home over the past four years, will be of wide interest.

A significant alteration in the nation's growth pattern will be highlighted by the slow-down of the population's rate of increase since 1970. A growth of only nine percent is projected. If the census bears this out, it will be the smallest increase in any decade since the first census in 1790. The exception was the 1940 census, which found the lowest 10-year growth rate as a result of the Great Depression.

The census is the Constitutional basis for reapportioning seats in the House of Representatives, and recent population estimates by the Census Bureau suggest that extensive redrawing of district boundaries will be necessary after the 1980 census. California, Texas, Florida, Utah, Oregon, Tennessee, Washington, and Arizona may gain one or more seats, and New York, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Michigan, and South Dakota may lose seats. In this Congressional district, it is believed there has been a 1.6 percent population decrease since 1970.

In numbers, the Census Bureau demographers are projecting a total U.S. population in 1980 of slightly more than 222 million. About eight months after the census has begun on April 1, the first of 300,000 pages of published characteristics will tell their story.

Economic, military aid proposed by president

BY PRESIDENT
JIMMY CARTER

It is clear that the entire subcontinent of Asia and specifically Pakistan are threatened. I am asking Congress, as the first order of business, to pass an economic and aid package designed to assist Pakistan defend itself.

For many years, the Soviet have slowly increased their real defense spending, expanded their strategic forces, strengthened their forces in Europe and Asia, and enhanced their capability for projecting military force around the world directly or through the use of proxies. Afghanistan dramatizes the vastly increased military power of the Soviet Union. The Soviet has built a war machine far beyond any reasonable requirements for its own defense and security. In contrast, our own defense spending—and our lead has encouraged increases by our allies.

With the support of Congress, we must and will make an even greater effort in years ahead.

The fiscal year 1981 budget would increase funding authority for defense to more than $138 billion, real growth of more than five percent over my request for Fiscal Year 1980. Therefore, required outlays for defense during fiscal 1981 will grow by more than three percent in real terms over the preceding year.

The trends we mean to correct cannot be remedied overnight; we must be willing to see this program through. To ensure that we do so, I am setting a growth rate for defense that we can sustain over the long haul.

The defense program I have proposed for the next five years will require some sacrifice—but sacrifice we can well afford.

The defense program emphasizes four areas:

(a) It ensures that our strategic nuclear forces will be equivalent to those of Soviet Union and that deterrence against nuclear war will be maintained.

(b) It upgrades our forces so that the military balance between NATO and the Warsaw Pact will continue to deter the outbreak of war—conventional or nuclear—in Europe.

(c) It provides us the ability to come quickly to the aid of friends and allies around the globe.

(d) And it ensures that our Navy will continue to be the most powerful on the seas. We are strengthening each of the three legs of our strategic forces. The cruise missile production which will begin next year will modernize our strategic air deterrent. B-52 capabilities will also be improved.

These steps will maintain and enhance the B-52 fleet by improving its ability to deliver weapons against increasingly heavily defended targets.

We are also modernizing our strategic submarine missile force. The first new Trident submarine has already been launched and will begin sea trials this year. The second Trident will be launched in the spring of 1980.

The first of our new MX missiles, with a range of more than 4,000 miles, have already begun operational patrols in Poseidon submarines.

The new MX missile will enhance the survivability of our land-based intercontinental ballistic missile force. That is why I decided last spring to produce this missile and selected the basing mode best suited to enhance its capability.

Further, the MX will strengthen our capability to attack a wide variety of Soviet targets.

Our new systems will enable U.S. strategic force to maintain equivalence to the face of the mounting Soviet challenge. We would, however, need an even greater investment in strategic systems to meet the likely Soviet buildup without SALT.

We are greatly accelerating our ability to reinforce Western Europe with massive ground and air forces in a crisis.

We are undertaking a major modernization program for the Army's weapons and equipment, adding armor, firepower and tactical mobility. We are pre-positioning more heavy equipment in Europe to help us cope with attacks with little warning, greatly strengthening our airlift and sealift capabilities.

We are also improving our tactical air forces—buying about 1,700 new fighter and attack aircraft over the next five years—and increasing the number of Air Force fighter wings by over 10 percent.

We are accelerating the rate at which we can move combat aircraft to Europe to cope with any surprise attack, and adding to the number of shelters at European airbases to prevent our aircraft from being destroyed on the ground.

We are systematically enhancing our ability to respond rapidly to non-NATO contingencies wherever required by our commitments or when our vital interests are threatened.

The rapid deployment forces we are assembling will be extraordinarily flexible. They could range in size from a few ships or air squadrons to formations as large as 100,000 men, together with their support.

Our forces will be prepared for rapid deployment to any region of strategic significance.

Among the specific initiatives we are taking to help us respond to crises outside of Europe are:

—The development and production of a new fleet of large cargo aircraft with intercontinental range.

—The design and procurement of a force of Maritime Pre-positioning

Ships that will carry heavy equipment and supplies for Marine Corps brigades.

In addition, responding to the Soviet military presence in Cuba and the proxy role of Cuba on behalf of the USSR, we have taken or are taking the following actions in support of the rapid deployment force:

(1) We are substantially increasing our ability to monitor Cuban and Soviet Cuban activities.

(2) We have established a Caribbean Joint Task Force Headquarters which improves our ability to respond to events in the region.

(3) We are increasing regional military exercises; and,

(4) We are intensifying assistance to countries in the regions that are threatened by Soviet or Cuban intervention.

Seapower is indispensable to our global position—in peace and also in war.

Our shipbuilding program will sustain a 550-ship Navy in the 1990s and we will continue to build the most capable ships afloat.

The program proposed will assure the ability of our Navy to operate in high threat areas, to maintain control of the seas, to protect vital lines of communication both military and economic—and to provide the strong maritime component of our rapid deployment forces.

This is essential for operations in remote areas of the world, where we cannot predict far in advance the precise location of trouble, or pre-position equipment on land.

No matter how capable or advanced our weapons systems, our military security depends on the abilities, the training and the dedication of the people who serve in our armed forces.

I am determined to recruit and to retain under any circumstances an ample level of such skilled and experienced military personnel.

We have enhanced our readiness and combat endurance by improving the Reserve Components.

All reservists are assigned to units structured to complement and provide needed depth to our active forces. Some reserve personnel have also now been equipped with new equipment.

I have also launched a major effort to establish a coherent and practical basis for all government mobilization planning. Begun last May, this is the first such effort conducted at the presidential level since World War II. It involves virtually every federal agency, with the aim of improved efficiency and readiness.

Our national interests are critically dependent on a strong and effective intelligence capability. We will not shortchange the intelligence capabilities needed to assure our national security.

Maintenance of and continued improvements in our multi-faceted intelligence effort are essential if we are to cope successfully with the turbulence and uncertainties of today's world.

The intelligence budget I have submitted to the Congress responds to our needs in a responsible way, providing for significant growth over the fiscal year 1980 budget.

This growth will enable us to develop new technical means of intelligence collection while also assuring that the more traditional methods of intelligence work are also given proper stress. We must continue to integrate both modes of collection in our analyses.

It is imperative that we now move forward promptly within the context of effective Congressional oversight to provide America's intelligence community with charters which can permit it to operate more effectively and within a national concern codified by law.

Political 'good old days' are recalled

By DAVID M. MAXFIELD

What computer and television technology is doing for today's presidential campaigns, torchlight parades and other political hoopla accomplished for elections already in the history books.

Picture this scene: Hartford, Conn., a night shortly before the election of 1860. Abraham Lincoln's backers, known as the Wide-Awakes, parade through the streets carrying huge frame boxes wrapped in thin cotton, and stamped with political slogans. Illuminated from the inside by Kerosene torches, the home-made transparencies tower over the line of marchers, dramatically lighting up the night sky.

Today, television and campaigns, direct mail operations have replaced many other colorful gimmicks the candidates once used to compete for press coverage and public attention.

In the 1860s, for example, it was popular for business that supported a candidate to link its products to his name, resulting in the candidate endorsing such items as shoes, sewing thread and tobacco.

And probably never to be seen again are the ideas dreamed up for the extravagant 1840 contest between William Henry Harrison and Martin Van Buren. In what must have been a very minor campaign, Harrison's backers pulled around symbolic log cabins to give the aristocratic Harrison an image of humble, down-home origins.

They also hit on the idea of rolling a large, slogan-covered ball from Washington to Baltimore to draw attention to the candidate and his platform.

Not overlooked in those days was the importance of building an identifiable image for the candidates; the task was as crucial then as it is now.

"It was important from the early elections to associate the candidate with something," says Herbert Collins, curator of the historical history at the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of History and Technology.

From the first, military careers were stressed. Washington, Jackson, Harrison, Zachary Taylor, Grant and others found their general's stars helpful in winning votes.

But other work and careers—"Abe, the Rail Splitter"—also were woven into the campaigns. Many of the earliest, as well as Jimmy Carter's 1976 outside approach, emphasized the candidate's background and connection with the common man.

Once the image was created, a vast array of campaign devices, from the simplest label button (IKE) to elaborate parades, helped put the message across.

Thousands of objects—most of them common, a few valuable and some quite strange—have been enlisted over the years.

Many of these now are part of the Smithsonian's collection of political memorabilia: buttons, sticks, pins, bumper stickers, flags, handkerchiefs, kerchiefs, ceramics, pillows, hats, songs, animals, coins, cartoons, advertisements, torches, lanterns, scarves, tie shirts, posters, lunch pails, buckets, decals, mugs, signs, umbrellas, sewing kits, dishes, sunglasses, spare tire covers, pens, playing cards, dolls and peanuts.

Take hats, for example. Candidates have worn stovepipes, derbies, beanies, coonskins, stetsons, silk hats and beavers.

Harrison was one candidate who did not wear a hat and it may have shortened his life; he died from pneumonia a month after his final inauguration.

From Washington's time to about 1840, most campaign items were made at home by a candidate's backers.

But came the Industrial Revolution gained momentum, manufacturers began producing political glass and ceramic items and printing textiles with portraits of the candidates and their slogans.

Many of the early ceramic pitchers were produced in England, often leading to confusion. The English craftsmen would ship campaign goods for different candidates—but with the same distorted portrait on each. "They had in mind that all the founding fathers looked alike," Collins says.

(a) It ensures that our strategic nuclear forces will be equivalent to those of the Soviet Union and that deterrence against nuclear war will be maintained. (b) It upgrades our forces so that the military balance between NATO and the Warsaw Pact will continue to deter the outbreak of war—conventional or nuclear—in Europe. Our new systems will enable U.S. strategic force to maintain equivalence to the face of the mounting Soviet challenge. We would, however, need an even greater investment in strategic systems to meet moving away, for example, from the one-word button that sprang out of the 1940s. Today, the button is still the most widely used political device.

Political cartooning, descended from the 18th Century, still adds dash to election years. In fact, the two national party symbols, the donkey and the elephant, originated from the pen of Thomas Nast, a cartoonist at Harper's Weekly during the 1870s.

Vilification, often associated with cartoons, also has strong ties to old election campaigns. Some years are worse than others, but a low point probably was reached in the campaign of 1864, when the Republican attempted to smear Grover Cleveland with stories of his alleged indiscreet dalliance with a Buffalo widow who had borne him a child.

"Ma, ma, where's my Pa? Gone to the White House, Ha! Ha! Ha!" went one chant.

The Democrats came right back with "Blaine, Blaine, James G. Blaine, the Continental Liar from the state of Maine," referring to charges that the Republican candidate received kickbacks from the railroads while a member of Congress in the 1870s.

Today, the national political party headquarters screen much of the political material produced by GRANITE CITY — The Illinois High School Association released the regional basketball pairings for both Class A and AA games late last week. And it looks like a tough road for all four Quad Cities high schools.

In the Dupo Class A Regional, the Venice Red Devils will get things started Feb. 26 in the tournament's first game against the host Dupo Tigers. Venice (11-8) was seeded fifth behind Dupo (10-8). The game will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be the only game played that night. If that wasn't enough, should the Devils survive Dupo, they'll face top-seeded Lovejoy (Brooklyn) at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 28. Second-seeded Madison (16-4) will face unpredictable Columbia Feb.

27 at 7:30 in the only game scheduled. Columbia has been beaten by some pretty hefty competition, but not too badly in some cases. For instance, the Eagles were nipped by Lebanon by one point three weeks ago.

Should Madison beat Columbia, the Trojans will probably face East St. Louis Assumption Feb. 28 at 8 p.m., since Assumption's first round opponent is hapless Belleville St. Henry. The championship game is scheduled for Feb. 29 at 7:30 p.m.

In the Class AA Regional at Collinsville, Granite City South will meet East St. Louis Lincoln in the tournament's opening game Tuesday, March 4 at 7:30 p.m. Lincoln is the top-seeded team, but barely survived South in the championship game of the Mount Vernon Thanksgiving Tournament in November. March 5 at 7:30, a knock-down, drag-out between Collinsville and defending regional, sectional and super-sectional champ East St. Louis will determine the other finalist at 7:30. The MASCOUTAH — The crowd at the Mascoutah gym Saturday night drew a collective breath. Kris Jenner, in obvious pain, was bent over at mid-court sort of testing his right leg.

In Lexington, Ky., Kentucky University basketball coach Joe B. Hall probably felt a sudden chill at that moment.

Jenner, a highly recruited high-school athlete in both football and basketball had announced a little over a week ago his intentions of becoming a University of Kentucky Wildcat next year. So even the hint of injury silenced the big Mascoutah crowd. Of immediate concern was the big scholarship and Jenner's rosy future. But as he left the court under his own power, things closer at hand fell into quick focus.

Even with all-star Jenner in the line-up the Granite City South Warriors had mounted a big comeback and trailed now with seconds left in the third quarter only 33-30. At one point, South had been behind by 13 points.

The Warriors ultimately lost to the Indians 53-40, but with Jenner headed for the locker room, things looked ripe for South to complete the turn-around.

But to South's surprise, Jenner's departure didn't have a very drastic effect on the game. "We could attack the inside a lot easier with that big guy out of the middle," South coach Don Deterding said. "And we got some shots, only they didn't fall in."

On the other end of the floor, Mascoutah coach Roger Thouvenin was thinking much the same thoughts.

"It goes through a coach's mind when you lose someone like Kris from your lineup that you're going to have to change your strategy to make up for it," he said. "Fortunately, our kids seemed to get together even more when that happened. We reacted quicker, I thought, and made up for it."

Instead of gaining momentum, the Warrior drive seemed to stall as soon as Jenner left. Before the remaining seconds of the third quarter ticked away, the Indians came back with three quick points and led 36-30 at the close.

The Warriors had a chance early in the fourth quarter to again close the gap when Bob Firtos stole an Indian pass and led to Bill Skinner who fired in a 20-footer.

Mascoutah's Glen Baker was called for a foul on the play, sending Lee Huebner to the line. South had a chance. If Huebner converted both of the shots to cut the lead to two points.

But Huebner's first shot of the one-and-one foul bounced off the rim and was scooped up by the Indians. South still trailed by four.

"When you're down by two it doesn't change the way you play play so much as it does the other guy," Deterding said. "The lid gets a little tighter on the basket and they start making mistakes hey wouldn't have other-wise." But the Indians avoided those kinds of mistakes. If anything, the Mascoutah zone defense got even tighter as South came closer.

Mosier sparks Kahoks' romp

GRANITE CITY — The big game that was supposed to happen here Friday never did. Collinsville whipped Cahokia 80-63 in a non-conference tilt that was supposed to be close. After all, Cahokia had upset powerful Effingham by one point a week earlier. And Effingham is ranked several notches ahead of Collinsville in the Associated Press state-wide poll.

But Bill Mosier, Collinsville's 6'8" center, scored 31 points to lead his team to the rout. Other Friday scores were: Edwardsville 64, Belleville East 61, Alton 85-Mater Dei 65 and Wood River 74-Bethalto 56.

In other action, Granite City South girls beat Roxana 71-30 and Madison's girls team dropped a 40-24 decision to O'Fallon Tech Thursday. Chris Boyd led South (6-0) with 24 points. Nancy Mikolaszuk paced Madison with seven.

Saturday night in boys action, Belleville Althoff threw a scare into Lebanon before losing 70-68. Collinsville beat Belleville West 72-51 and East St. Louis edged Belleville East 58-52.

Madison nips Tigers with 2nd half surge

By ROBERT HEGG
for the Press-Record
MADISON — The Madison Trojans took advantage of eight fourth quarter turnovers by the Edwardsville Tigers, including six in the final four minutes, to beat Edwardsville 48-43 Saturday night in Madison.

With less than a minute to play, Edwardsville was leading 43-42 and the Tigers were stalling as guard Greg Shashack and forward Dan Allaria took turns dribbling all over the court.

Madison's Kerry Guest stole the ball from Allaria at the 30 second mark and passed to Pat Hatter who scored on a layup to put Madison on top. Hatter was fouled on the play by Shashack and he made the free throw to give Madison its winning margin.

Edwardsville didn't take a shot in the last three-and-a-half minutes of the game. The Tigers had a six point lead at that point and were content to sit on it.

"We had the situation well in hand," said Edwardsville coach Bud Vallino, "but then we started throwing the ball away."

Edwardsville players threw the ball put of bounds three times and had it stolen three more times in the final four minutes.

"Our kids haven't passed the ball that badly all year," said Vallino. "We beat ourselves — they didn't beat us."

For most of the game it didn't look like anybody would beat Edwardsville. Allaria tipped in a last second shot by Edwardsville's Brad Opel to give the Tigers 13-11 first quarter lead. Madison would not catch Edwardsville until the final 30 seconds of the game.

The first quarter action was furious as Edwardsville took 15 shots to Madison's 14. Neither team shot well from the floor, however, as both teams made only four field goals.

Both clubs employed a full court press much of the quarter and Edwardsville got the best of it by forcing six Madison turnovers. There were eleven fouls in the opening period, and Edwardsville got three additional shots from the line which made the difference in the scoring. The Tigers were five for seven in foul shots while Madison went three for four.

The pace slowed considerably in the second quarter as both teams took fewer shots, made fewer turnovers, and committed fewer fouls. Edwardsville scored more points, however, as the 6-foot-2 Allaria became a one man terror for the Tigers.

He scored eight points, grabbed four rebounds, and had an assist in the quarter. Twice Allaria picked up a rebound from his own shot and followed up with a basket.

Meanwhile Madison was having trouble penetrating Edwardsville's 2-1-2 zone and the Tigers opened up a 23-13 lead with four minutes to go in the half. The Trojans then scored five unanswered points to cut the lead to five at the half.

Madison started the game without 6-foot-2 forward Pat Hatter who had twisted an ankle while warming up. His outside shooting was sorely missed as Madison's only baskets in the second quarter came on layups by Morris Hughes and Kerry Guest. But Hatter wasn't the only Trojan who was hurting.

"We overcame a lot of adversity to win tonight," said Trojan coach Larry Graham. "Echols (Tyronne) wasn't able to play tonight and he's our starting guard. Hatter got hurt warming up and Hughes (Morris), who is

CAHOKIA — Even though the wrestling Stealers of Granite City North went 3-0 by beating Cahokia, Carbondale and Roxana in a wrestling triple dual at Cahokia Saturday afternoon, Walt Whitaker's twelve got hit below the belt.

North's standout 112-pounder, Jerry Miller, who has compiled a 26-1 record, was injured in his victorious match against Matt Lering of Carbondale. Miller suffered a cut above his eyebrow and was taken for medical examination.

"Right now, Jerry is a big question mark for the rest of the season," said Whitaker. In the triple dual, North beat Roxana 39-19 and Cahokia defeated Carbondale 46-12 in the first round of the day. In the second round, North beat Cahokia 38-15 and Roxana beat Carbondale 49-12. The Stealers destroyed Carbondale 50-8 and Cahokia whipped Roxana 44-13 in the final round of the triple dual.

Carbondale forfeited three weights to each.

NORTH 36
ROXANA 19
The score was tied 2-2 with 33 seconds remaining in the question mark when Stealer Mike Robinson scored a takedown and beat Rob Warren, 4-2. Steve Smith, 105 pounds of North, wrestled to 3-3 draw with Rob Milazzo. Miller, 112 for the Stealers, cradled Mike Plummer and stuck him at the 2:27 mark. Tracy Patton, 119 for North, followed suit and pinned Kenny Nelson in the first period, 1-40. Bobby Kirgan, North's 126-pounder, whipped Ken Bruggeman, 15-2. Glenn Thompson, of North, beat Rick Copeland 5-3 in the 132 pound bout. At 138, Stealer Kevin Shewell shut out Greg Payne 14-0. North's Scott Corey used a "Figure 4" head lock to pin 145-pound Terry Allen. At 155, Bill Zimmer, North freshman, lost 6-4 to Ron Nelson. Tom Nance of North, lost to a Mike Babcock pin, 3-32.

At 185, Bob Patton lost 11-4 to Shell Dean Hollis. Tim Wyrostek, the Stealer's heavyweight, lost to Gary Carter, 18-6. North won the dual 36-19.

South grapplers take city crown

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Scott Polson ripped a long piece of tape from his ankle, wadded it in a ball, and flung it on the floor.

"It was a defiant gesture and there was a look of pent-up energy in his eyes."

"Had you not known better, you'd have never guessed Polson had just looked up a victory for his Granite City South wrestling team over rival Granite City North."

"But there is a lot for everyone to see. With Polson's pin of North's Tom Nance in the 167-pound weight class, the Warriors had taken a 24-13 lead in the match."

"North's only chance to win — it would have taken pins in each of the two remaining divisions — were erased in the next bout. South eventually won 30-13."

"Ripping the tape was Polson's version of a victory celebration."

"I knew before the meet that my match would probably be the difference," a calmer Polson said later. "And I knew it would be tough."

But Polson was as confident on the mat as he was aggressive. He and Nance mixed it up in the first period, but neither gained a clear advantage.

Polson had three take-downs in the period, but Nance held his own and was down 4-5 at the end of the period.

Late in the second period Polson again recorded a take-down, but couldn't quite control Nance.

Then with 20 seconds to go in the period, Polson suddenly flipped Nance on his back, covered the surprised Steeler and landed for the referee's familiar slap of the mat.

"It was one of my better moves," Polson said of his sudden dominance. "I had to wait for it to be there, though. I set it up earlier, then when I saw the opening I moved in. The first time you just show it to them."

Just what was that decisive move? "I don't have a name for it," Polson said. "I guess you'll have to ask Nance what it was."

Polson's cocky mood, though, wasn't the same one that South brought into the meet. Both coaches had done some pre-match figuring, and both thought it looked pretty much even.

Walt Whitaker, North's coach, thought his wrestlers could win the first six weights.

South coach Red Schmitt figured on winning the next six.

The difference, they both agreed, would be the scores of the various wins.

That's why Polson's pin was decisive. And that's why it wasn't the only critical match.

"We knew we had to get wins in our lower weights," Whitaker said. "So when we lost at 98 and 119 and got a draw at 12 we knew we had trouble. It would've taken a miracle to win after that."

The very first match started the Stealers' trouble. North's 98-pound entry Mike Robinson lost 9-5 to South's Mike Trgovich and North was behind 3-0.

The Stealers pulled ahead on the strength of Steve Smith's 8-2 win in the 105 division, though, only to see another setback at 112.

North's Gerald Miller hooked up in a defensive sort of duel with South's Greg Garland and the resulting 2-2 draw left the Stealers ahead only 6-5.

"We thought they had a chance to go up by six victories," Schmitt said of the Stealers. "And when Garland injured his knee before the meet, we were really worried about his match. In his condition, we'll settle for a draw any day."

But the surprises weren't over with the 112-pound clash. South followed up with an equally big win in the 119-pound division. And Whitaker began hoping for miracles.

South's Randy Lupardus beat North's Tracy Patton, 12-7, giving South an 8-6 lead.

Things went according to plan at 126, where North's Robert Kirgan wopped South's Randy Neiber, 11-1. North regained an 11-8 lead.

But surprise again at 132, where North's Steve Smith lost 7-0 to South's Rodney Lupardus.

At the end of six matches, instead of shutting the Warriors out, North was behind, 11-10. And the meat of the Warrior squad had yet to be heard from.

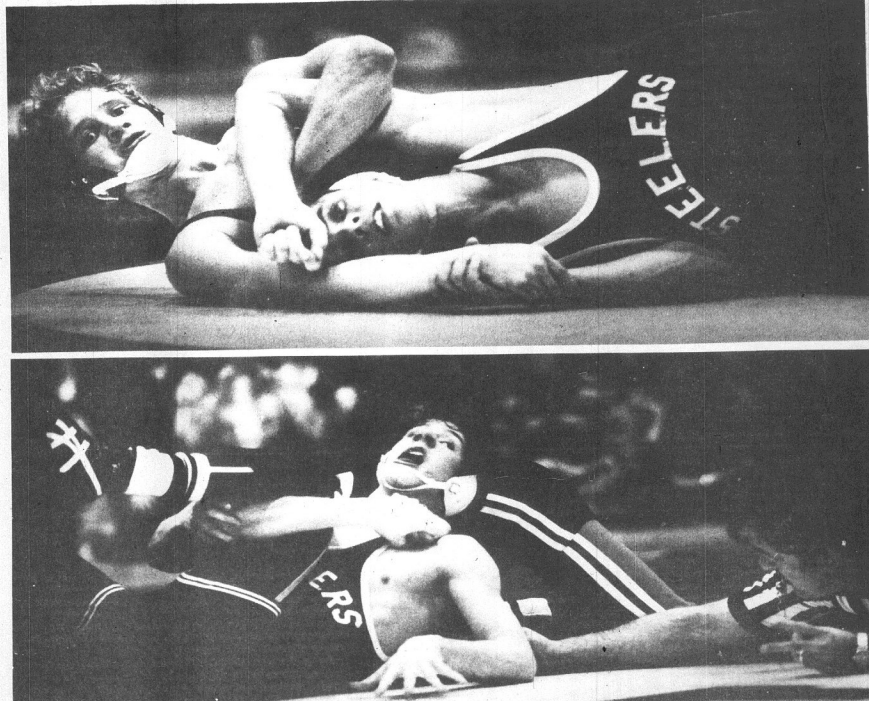

Except for the 138-pound match, where Steeler Kevin Shemwell beat South's Tom McElroy, 11-7, there were no additional surprises.

The Warriors pulled ahead 14-13 when South's Dean Perkins beat North's Scott Corey in the 145-pound division.

They added to their lead with a 10-1 Drue Clement victory over North's Bill Zimmer.

That set up Polson's pin at 140 of the second period of the 167 match.

South's Rich James followed with an 8-3 victory over Bob Patton at 188, and Warrior heavyweight Bruce Monahan made it a clean sweep in the lower divisions with an 11-7 win over Tim Wyrstek.

BATTLE OF GRANITE CITY. The action was fierce from the opening bout to the heavyweight match Thursday when Granite City's two high schools squared off in a dual

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record

BELEVILLE — Granite City South soundly defeated the Althoff Crusaders 53-7 Friday night in South's last wrestling dual before the Gateway East Conference Tournament this Friday at Cahokia.

Sophomore Mike Trgovich led the meet off for the Warriors with a 1:16 "Piggyback" head lock pin against 99-pound Scott Santiago. At 105, junior Chris Cottrell tied with sophomore John Yociss, of Althoff, at 2:22. Cottrell reversed Yociss in the third period to tie the bout.

Greg Garland, South's regular 112-pounder, injured his knee and did not wrestle Friday night. Instead, junior Rich Miller wrestled his first varsity match this year and won 17-13. Miller scored nine near fall points to beat Bob Herbert. At 119, Randy Lupardus, of South, illegally abused Mark Schmitt's right shoulder. Schmitt did not return and won by default.

At 126, sophomore Warrior Mike Neibur pinned Danny Burger with a 20 second nearside cradle. At 132, senior Rodney Lupardus pinned John DeVecchio at 5:39 with a double grapevine leg lock. Junior Tom McElroy used a cradle to end his 138-pound bout at 40 seconds. Terry Braxmeier was the victim of that hold.

Dean Perkins, South's 145-pounder, pinned Joe Lillis at 2:27. At 155, Drue Clement, of South, scored two near fall points in the third period to tie the score against Dan McGlynn. The bout seemed to end at the 4:4 tie, but after the buzzer, McGlynn used some foul language and Clement was awarded one penalty point. Clement won 5-4.

Senior Scott Polson, South's 167-pounder, pinned Kevin Roche at 2:16. After that pin, Roche pushed Polson who retaliated with his own shove. A team point was deducted from both teams.

At 185, Jim Frangoulis scored a 12-1 decision over Dan Minor. And at heavyweight, Warrior Bruce Monahan pinned Jeff Hemmer at 1:14.

"After the dual with North, our kids just weren't up the way they should be," said South's coach Bill Schmitt. "Dan (Perkins) is too cocky. We're all too confident. That will hurt us in the conference tourney this weekend. Neither needed that win at 126. It did him a world of good."

South's overall record is 20-9. The one loss was against Belleville West. This Friday at 4 p.m. South will wrestle at Cahokia in the Conference tourney. Other teams that are in it are Cahokia, Granite North, Edwardsville and Althoff.

Hoop Cougars fall

HATTIESBURG, MISS. — Jerome Nelson, battling like a man possessed, came close to pacing the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team to a stunning upset victory over the Golden Eagles of Southern Mississippi University here Saturday night. Southern held to win, 85-79, to top its record to 12-6, while the Cougars dropped back to 10-10.

Nelson, a whirling dervish of a player from Danville, Ill., grabbed off game scoring honors with 25 points as he hit on nine of 22 efforts from the floor and seven of eight from the line. However, it was his game high seven "steals," mostly in the last half, which brought the Cougars back from dismal 29-36 deficit at the half to make a run at Coach M.K. Turk's charges. Three of the winner's players were in double figures: guard Ken Smith with 20 and 19 each for center (6-9) Ron Jackson and forward (6-7) Joe Dawson.

Dawson's 19 rebounds helped Southern to outlast the Cougars, but SIUE's leading rebounder, Bill Branz, finished with 16 caroms. Branz's 16 points helped the Cougar captain and senior from Odell, Ill., maintain his squad scoring edge.

Southern Mississippi plays St. Louis U. tonight (Monday) at the Checkerdomes, starting at 8 p.m. SIUE plays Maryville College Wednesday at home.

Whitaker. "We won at 30 while of weights that I wasn't sure of."

Robinson, at 98, beat Comanche Bob McDaniel 10-3 to start things off for the Steelers with a nice tone. At 105, Smith beat Phil McIntyre 5-3. Miller won with another pin. This one was at 3:21 against Dave Kofron. At 119, Patton cradled James Cozart at 3:30 for his second pin.

Kirgan and Mark

Lorentzen tied 6-6 in the 126 pound bout. Lorentzen scored a takedown with eight seconds remaining to tie the score. At 132, Thompson of North, decided Todd Bradshaw 4-1.

At 138, pinned Mike York at 5:09. Scott Corey, North's 145-pounder, shut out Bob Kofron 4-0. At 155, Zimmler lost 15-5 to Kevin Bement. Nance, at 167 for North, pinned Frank Bergman, 3:50. At 185, Steeler Patton was pinned by Clarence Byrum, 3:34. Wyrostek lost 7-6 to Keith Cruise.

NORTH 50, CARBONDALE 8

Robinson, 98; Kirgan, 126; and Shemwell, 138, all received forfeits from Carbondale. Four other Steelers won by pins. And Miller got hurt.

At 112, Miller pinned Leming at 1:25 for his third pin of the day. Miller also suffered a cut above his eye in that bout and he is under doctor's care.

Patton, at 119 for North, stuck Tim Brown at 2:27 for his third pin of the day. At 185, Patton of North, pinned Mark Schreimann at the 3:46 mark. And Wyrostek, North's heavyweight, pinned Roger Lippe at 3:45. North's other wins came as a 14-0 decision by 167 pound Nance over Steve Gleyer and a 13-0, 6-3 decision by Thompson over Brian Brown.

North lost three decisions. At 100, Smith lost 6-4 to Rich Freemore. At 145, Corey lost to Tim Knewitz 5-0, and Zimmer, at 155, lost a 9-8 decision to Neal Motti. Carbondale got one team point deducted as a result of an unsportsmanlike conduct charge that was called when a Carbondale wrestler threw his headgear.

This Friday evening, the Steelers and South will wrestle in the first annual Gateway East Conference Tournament. North, South, Edwardsville and Althoff will all travel to Cahokia. The action will start at 4 p.m. with the preliminaries.

Trojans

supposed to be our best player, is only able to go at about three-fourths now with his hurt leg like it is."

Unfortunately for Edwardsville, Hatter was able to play the second half and he made it a different kind of game. Hatter made two 20-footers in the first minute-and-a-half of the third quarter which gave Madison some momentum. His outside shooting also opened up the middle for the Trojans who pulled within one, 33-32, by the end of the quarter. Hatter went on to score 10 second half points, including the game winning basket, and Graham felt the forward was the catalyst to Madison's win.

"I thought Hatter was the key to the game," Graham said. "He really sparked up."

Another key to the game was that Allaria went cold. He was only one-for-five from the floor the third quarter and took only one shot in the final period — which he missed.

With Allaria scoring just two points the second half, 6-foot-4 senior forward Tom Hanson tried to pick up the offensive slack. Shooting only inside shots, Hanson scored 10 second half points to help keep Edwardsville on top right down to the wire. Edwardsville had opened up a six point lead, 41-35, with four minutes to play when the Tigers began throwing the ball away. Cozy fouls also plagued the Tigers. Madison went to the line on four different occasions and ended up making five of seven foul shots, while Edwardsville went 6-for-1 the entire fourth quarter.

Trojans pounce on Steelers

Friday action

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

MADISON — If you were inclined to bet on the outcome of Friday's Madison-Granite City North basketball game, the smart money had to go with Madison's Trojans.

You may have had trouble finding someone willing to take your bet, but congratulations if you did. The Trojans won 86-55.

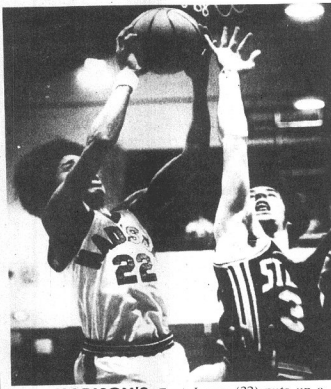

Your palms may have sweated a little during the first quarter when the teams played it basket for basket, but other than that, the game turned out pretty much as expected. The Steelers were scrappy as always, but a combination of speed and height gave Madison the clear edge.

"We just didn't handle their quickness or their pressure," North coach Bill Ohlendorf said.

But according to Madison coach Larry Graham, North ran into the Trojans at a particularly bad time for the Steelers.

"This was one of our better games of the year," Graham said. "We really wanted to win tonight."

BILL OHLENDORF

North was convinced of that along about the end of the first quarter. That's when Trojans Morris Hughes and Charles Claggett checked into the game and about the last time the score was close. The pair went to work immediately. Hughes keeping North at bay defensively and Claggett popping away offensively. The Steelers scored only six points in the quarter, while Madison poured in 25 points. By the half the Trojans held a 44-23 lead.

The difference between the first two periods was striking. The Steelers held their own in the first quarter by managing to keep pace with the Trojans running game. Clutch shooting and strong rebounding by North's Mike York helped to keep Madison within two points, 19-17, at the close of the period. But enter Hughes and Claggett and exit Steelers. "After that they did pretty much what they wanted to," Ohlendorf said. "We didn't run our patterns as much as we wanted to, but that was because they wouldn't let us, mainly."

By the second half, the game wasn't much more than shooting practice for the Trojans. The thrill was long gone for North. "After they got 10 or 15 point lead, it kind of let the air out of it for us," Ohlendorf said. "They (Madison) were feeling pretty good about it by then, though. That's why they got up and down the floor better."

By the fourth quarter, the Trojans were beginning to call in the reserves. By that time things were all but settled. Madison had 11 players in the scoring columns. Claggett and Pat Hatter each had 17 points apiece to lead the Trojans. One of the few bright spots for North was the scoring of Dennis Page, who also had 17 points on the night. The performance left Graham, for one, impressed. "I know about Page," he said. "He convinced me he can shoot. (Mike) Robertson, (Bob) Batey, they're all good shooters. I'm surprised we were able to hold them to what we did. We've had our troubles defensively."

The Steelers' trouble, as Ohlendorf saw it, was not being able to handle the Madison press.

"They applied good pressure to us," he said. "We just weren't able to respond tonight. We didn't set up our shots. We very seldom made two or three passes in a play, and that's what we have to do to win."

North loses shoot-out

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

O'FALLON — A second half comeback sparked the O'Fallon basketball Panthers to a high-scoring 89-80 victory over Granite City North here Thursday. But this time, the comeback was not aided by a North lapse. It was just that O'Fallon's free throw shooting was that much better.

North took the early lead over the Panthers, but saw the home team fight back and claim a 22-17 lead at the end of the first quarter. But that didn't phase the Panthers. Back they came to lead 41-40 at halftime.

"We played very well in some areas I thought," said North coach Bill Ohlendorf. "But O'Fallon just didn't miss their free throws."

With North ahead at halftime, Ohlendorf told his team what to expect. "I said they'd probably come out and try to tear the hell out of us inside the second half," he said. "They hadn't been using their height well the first half."

They did in the second half. Using 6'6" center Terry Ridhau, the Panthers back and took a 61-56 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Thursday action

Ridhau threw three times early in the second half, simply got the ball, held it over his head and flipped it into the basket, while desperate and much shorter Steelers jumped and slapped away at it helplessly.

"I know it sounds like a broken record," said Ohlendorf, "but it's our age-old problem of not having enough height."

Despite being shorter, the game Steelers stayed right in the game. With all-state candidate Dennis Page peppering shots in from 30 feet in the first half and guard-mate Bob Batey hitting from long-range in the second half when Page cooled off a bit, North kept within striking distance.

As disappointing as a loss is, Ohlendorf didn't seem extremely distraught afterwards. "My kids played very well tonight," he again said. "I think Mike York may have played his best game of the season tonight. He's playing with confidence now."

North was able to do almost as it pleased against O'Fallon's much-heralded defense in the first half. "We ran our offense well," said Ohlendorf. "Bobby (Batey) ran things well."

The play of Batey, a 5'9" fireplug, brought a smile to Ohlendorf's face. "This was the first time since early in the season we'd used Bobby as the running guard. And he didn't have any turnovers."

When a high school team scores 80 points and loses the game, it's obvious neither defense was actually tearing the other team up.

The closest North got in the fourth quarter was three points — three times. With 7:01 left in the game, Mike Robertson hit two free throws to make it 63-60. After a basket by O'Fallon, Page out-fought the trees inside, grabbed a rebound and popped in a bank-shot from 10 feet to make it 65-62.

"When you get down and are as short as we are, you can't help but foul," said Ohlendorf. "We had to. It's part of the game."

Familiar face at ISU

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — When someone mentions Illinois State University and Granite City South High School, the name Sam Perkins automatically comes to mind.

Perkins graduated from Granite South in 1979 and is currently a freshman at ISU majoring in Industrial Technology.

And he's a wrestler.

Perkins made a name for himself in the high school wrestling circuit and now, he is repeating that in the collegiate circuit with ISU. Perkins is the 150 pound wrestler for the Redbirds.

This past Saturday afternoon (Feb. 2), Perkins and his team wrestled the Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. ISU won the meet 22-17. Perkins displayed his wrestling ability in front of the 25-30 Granite City fans when he beat SIUE's Mike Lorentzen of Cahokia.

With that win, the ISU athlete has compiled an overall record of 24-2-2 as a college freshman. About his eight losses, Perkins said, "A couple of them I should have won. But, two or three guys just totally whipped the hell out of me."

Perkins works out regularly with weights, runs two-three miles a day, and works in the ever present practices with his team and coach, George Girardi. "The hardest part of college wrestling is getting in shape. My studies keep getting in the way," said the athlete.

"The wrestlers are much more experienced. It is a lot tougher than high school," said Perkins. "Girardi listens to whatever we tell him. If we have a problem or something to show him, he'll listen. We work with a lot more drills than competition like we did at South. (Bill) Schmitt is a good coach and so is Girardi."

SAM PERKINS of Illinois State, a former GCHS South wrestler (top) has his way Saturday in his bout with Mike Lorentzen of SIUE-E in action at the Meridian Ballroom in Edwardsville. Perkins won his 150-pound bout and State beat the Cougars.

In Memoriam 33

IN LOVING memory of our darling daughter, granddaughter and niece, SALENA ANTOINETTE PRICE, who died Feb. 4, 1979. You have only been gone from us one year. We miss you so very much. We wish you were here. We think and talk about you all the time. And we know in our hearts that you are fine. You have no more suffering and no more pain. Only good things by your death you have gained. The Lord has you now, with Him you must stay. Until we are all reunited as a family someday. Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Sister Tamra, Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Owen Shams of Granite City, and Sister Marilyn and Carolyn.

Winter survival requires planning

LIVING OFF THE LAND

By BOB WILLIAMS
SITUATION OF Education
The first rule of the year is upon us, having grown up in Montana, I learned a healthy appreciation for what snow and cold can do to the body—or even to life—in consideration is not given to its effects. I'm talking about your ability to meet unexpected problems if you are out in the cold and have to stay outside for a period of time.

The best solution for meeting emergency situations in the cold is to be prepared mentally, physically and environmentally. Environmentally preparing to meet the cold weather emergency is perhaps the easiest to accomplish. First, and foremost, never leave your house in cold weather without adequate clothing.

No matter how short the trip, prepare for the worst. Put the kids in gloves and boots in the car even though you may be bringing them back wrapped in a blanket, sleeping. If you are forced to wait for an emergency, adequate preparation will have been made.

I never go anywhere without an extra pair of gloves and an extra coat in the car. I also carry extra stocking caps. These would be for stalled people who haven't read this article. One should also carry a blanket or sleeping bag rolled up in the trunk or back seat.

You should carry a small, easily assembled, inexpensive survival kit. This would consist of a two-pound (1 kg) coffee can and lid. The coffee can is your carrying case, and it can be used to melt water for stalled people who can't be reached.

Several candles, a 1-2 meter nylon rope, some chocolate bars and peanut butter, first-aid cream and bandages, a plastic garbage sack, a knife or razor blade.

Also, matches, a small piece

(23 meters) telephone wire, some fine steel wool, tape, and a flashlight.

Add extra candles, whistle, food or a mirror to fill up the can. Instant coffee might also be a good idea.

The can serves as a table for the candles. Its flames can warm most cars' interiors and not cause the additional survival problem of carbon monoxide poisoning that accompanies a running motor.

The plastic bag is used for protection against wind while outside, and it retains body heat as you sit.

The use of the first-aid kit is obvious, as is the use of the chocolate. Any high-energy concentrated food is welcome to the stranded even if it only represents a psychological uplift.

The nylon rope, depending on its strength, can be used to form a signal flag or to pull wood or other materials toward and from your car. If a parachute strap is purchased from a surplus store, this might be strong enough to pull your car from the ditch. The telephone wire and steel wool provide an interesting fire building apparatus if matches fail.

Cut the wire into two pieces. Expose the wire ends. Place one end of each piece on the positive and negative poles of the battery terminals. Place a piece of the steel wool in a protected area. Add dry tinder to the steel wool.

Have larger sticks, wood, and paper near so that they can be added as the fire starts. Touch the two free ends of the wire to the steel wool. The wool should glow and ignite the tinder.

Try it yourself but be careful not to light up your car because of a gasoline leak.

The flashlight and mirror are most importantly a signal device. Remember that the modified SOS code—three signals, flashes, horn beeps, yells, whistles, whatever in rapid succession—is the universal call for help.

A mirror will reflect light from the sun

or headlights, so it can be a valuable signaling instrument. Another signal device that has merit and saves energy is a whistle.

The coffee can becomes a hot water producer if it is filled with snow and placed on the manifold of the car. Assuming the car has adequate gasoline, you may choose to run the engine for short periods.

As the heat of the car is used inside, it can melt the snow. Instant coffee, tea or soup could be made.

In prolonged exposure to the cold, hypothermia is a possible result. Exposure can lower the inner body heat, which can lead to death.

Eating snow to dissipate thirst can hasten this killer by lowering the temperature of your body. Thus the importance of an available water supply is easily seen.

Having a survival kit such as the one I am suggesting goes a long way in helping promote mental survival skills. Self-confidence can ward off the panic that often follows stress situations caused by winter car failure.

If you are stalled off the road, or stranded, take stock. Stop and plan your alternatives to meet your situation.

If you are on a well-traveled road, someone will come along. Get your signal device ready and wait. Most survivors will have stayed with the car because sooner or later someone will be along.

If you know the country well, you might prepare your passengers as comfortably as possible and then wait for your destination. Wear warm clothes as you set out and stay dry.

Make sure you tell your fellow travelers where you are bound. If alone, leave a note. If you don't know the country well or cannot see or remember having passed a dwelling, then stay put. Someone will be along.

Advice to parents of pre-schoolers

Guest speakers with expert advice for parents of pre-school children will join the regular Friday parents meetings at the Early Childhood Center at SIUE during February.

On Friday, Feb. 8, Rudy Wilson, SIUE assistant professor of education and member of the Edwardsville School Board, will discuss drugs and tell parents of pre-school children what they need to know.

On Feb. 15, a Granite City chiropractor, Dr. Thomas J. Clay, will talk about diet and the use of preventive medicine with young children.

And on Feb. 22, Thomas Shea, professor of special education, will give tips on behavioral management of the pre-schooler.

The meetings began Friday, Feb. 1, when Joyce Reid helped parents find the right books for young children.

children. She is the children's consultant of the Lewis & Clark Library system.

The parent meetings, held each Friday between 10:30 a.m. and 12 noon in the Early Childhood Center on the SIUE campus, are free and open to any person interested in young children. Additional information is available from LaVern Wilson, director of the center, telephone 692-2556.
